Assistant/Associate Professor of Landscape Architecture
Division of Landscape Architecture
College of Architecture
University of Oklahoma

The University of Oklahoma’s Division of Landscape Architecture invites applications for a tenure-track assistant or associate professor to begin in August, 2014. Successful candidates will be expected to teach core design studios, professional curricular content and have an individualized research agenda. Interdisciplinary teaching and research is a hallmark of the College of Architecture.

The successful candidate will become an integral member of the faculty delivering a high-quality, LAAB accredited MLA curriculum emphasizing the design challenges and opportunities of professional practice in the southern Great Plains. Oklahoma, while still small in population, is a growing state and the need for landscape architects will increase in the coming decades. The challenges of natural resource constraints (especially water) along with natural disasters (fire, flood and tornadoes) makes resilience of design approach a necessity. Our students come from around the world to learn how to design and plan living landscapes within a challenging context. The successful candidate will also:

- Have the opportunity to work in a Division and College focused on collaboration that includes collegiality as part of the annual faculty evaluation,
- Have the opportunity to work under an administration strongly supporting faculty governance.
- The opportunity to work in a new University of Oklahoma office and classroom building equipped with the latest teaching and research technology.
- The opportunity to work with students and researchers in the new College of Architecture Planning, Design, and Construction Ph.D. program that will begin admitting students in 2014.

Required Qualifications:
- Applicants must hold a terminal degree in landscape architecture or at least one degree in landscape architecture and a terminal degree in a related field.
- Ph.D. or work experience in the public or private sector and ability to be professionally licensed in the State of Oklahoma within one year of hire.

Preferred Qualifications:
- Earned Ph.D. or ABD in a relevant field (or expected completion within one year of hire).
- Prior teaching experience.
- Potential to develop a research agenda in support of the Division and College goals.

Located in Norman, Oklahoma, the College of Architecture offers degrees in Architecture, Construction Science, Interior Design, Landscape Architecture, and Regional and City Planning. In Tulsa, Oklahoma, through the Urban Design Center, the College offers an MS in Architectural Urban Studies. The College has 42 full and part-time faculty with an enrollment of 530 undergraduate students and 80 graduate students. The College of Architecture is housed in Gould Hall, a recently-renovated state-of-the-art teaching and research facility. The College of Architecture is also home to the Institute for Quality Communities, dedicated to providing planning and design assistance to Oklahoma communities.

The University of Oklahoma is a comprehensive research University offering a wide variety of undergraduate and graduate programs with extensive continuing education and public service programs. Its 2,000-acre Norman campus houses 15 colleges with approximately 1,300 faculty servicing 26,000 students. Norman, located 17 miles south of Oklahoma City, has an estimated population of 107,000, making it the third-largest city in Oklahoma, and is known for its quality of life and affordability.
Apply electronically (in PDF format) by submitting a cover letter expressing your interest in the position and describing your relevant experience in teaching, research, and service along with full contact information for three references (please indicate if these are confidential) and curriculum vitae to Melanie Cartwright mcartwright@ou.edu

Questions and inquiries may be submitted electronically to Professor Tom Woodfin, ASLA, Ph.D. at twoodfin@ou.edu or by phone at 405.325.6493. Application review will begin on January 13, 2014. The position will remain open until filled.

The University of Oklahoma is an Affirmative Action, Equal Opportunity Employer. Minorities and women are encouraged to apply.