WATER REUSE IN OKLAHOMA

Water reuse in Oklahoma is the topic for three upcoming educational outreach forums open to the public at no cost. The meetings are designed to inform the public and to allow people to provide input for Oklahoma's future water resource planning. Wastewater recycling, reclamation, and reuse may be an option for many communities to augment their drinking water supplies, especially in areas where fresh water resources are limited.

The Oklahoma Water Survey together with faculty at the University of Oklahoma, as well as staff with the Oklahoma Water Resources Board, Oklahoma Department of Environmental Quality, the city of Norman, and Garver, a multi-disciplined engineering, planning and environmental services firm, will guide the forums, which are scheduled from 6 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. on April 23, May 14 and June 18. The forums will be held in Room 1313 at the National Weather Center, located at 100 David L. Boren Blvd., in Norman.

The first forum will help explain water quality and water quantity management practices in Oklahoma, the current regulatory environment for reuse of water resources, and a brief summary of these matters as they relate to the 2012 Update of the Oklahoma Comprehensive Water Plan as well as help lay the groundwork for the succeeding forums.

There is no fee for the public forum, however, participants are asked to register at www.oklahomawatersurvey.org for planning purposes (refreshments, handouts etc.)
