In January, 2011, OU was named by the Carnegie Foundation to its highest tier of research activity classification, the first time a public institution in Oklahoma has received this outstanding recognition.

OVERVIEW
The University of Oklahoma offers the Doctor of Education in Educational Administration, Curriculum and Supervision degree in its entirety in the OKC-area campus. Currently, two courses will be offered on Wednesday evenings starting at 4:25 p.m. Coursework is followed by dissertation research. Time for completion of the degree varies from candidate to candidate.

The Executive Ed. D. emphasizes technical knowledge and applied research skills designed to prepare administrators to lead and manage complex organizations. The program is suitable for working professionals who are expected to serve with distinction in demanding positions while completing the degree.

The degree is a district-level leadership skills program approved by the Oklahoma State Department of Education for certification purposes. Mentored, organized fieldwork is an integral part of the program.

ADDITIONAL RESOURCES
For additional information on programs in educational leadership, visit: www.ou.edu/education/elps.

SCHOLARSHIP OPPORTUNITIES
To learn more about scholarship opportunities available to Jeannine Rainbolt College of Education students, visit: http://ed.ou.edu/graduatescholarships

APPLICATIONS
Applications for admission deadline - April 15. Applications completed and received after that date may be reviewed at the discretion of the faculty.