ANNOUNCEMENT OF VACANCIES
The University of Oklahoma, Jeannine Rainbolt College of Education
Educational Leadership and Policy Studies
ASSISTANT/ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR
(Tenure Track Position)

The Department of Educational Leadership and Policy Studies in the College of Education at the University of Oklahoma invites applications for the position of Assistant/Associate Professor (Tenure-Track) of Adult and Higher Education (EDAH). The individual we seek will have expertise in the areas of Higher Education and/or Student Affairs. This position will support existing program emphases, including but not limited to Higher Education (Administration, Student Affairs, and Intercollegiate Athletics Administration) and Adult Education (Training and Development, Continuing Education, and Distance Education). The Adult and Higher Education program offers both master’s and Ph.D. degrees with all courses taught at the graduate level. The successful candidate will be expected to serve on doctoral committees and earn membership on the Graduate Faculty so as to be qualified to chair doctoral committees. More information about the position can be found at http://ed.ou.edu/edahpositions. The University of Oklahoma is a comprehensive flagship institution with a student body of 26,000 on the Norman campus and is committed to excellence in teaching, research, and professional service. Information about the EDAH program may be found at http://ed.ou.edu/edahpg and about the institution at http://www.ou.edu.

Required Qualifications: The successful candidate will possess earned doctorate in Higher Education or Student Affairs area; a commitment to activities appropriate to a research-intensive institution; a willingness and ability to work with graduate students and colleagues in a collegial manner; and a commitment to diversity and multicultural understanding.

Preferred Qualifications: Special consideration will be given to applicants with expertise in and experience with higher education; adult education; organizational behavior, management, and administration related to diverse college students, departments of student affairs, and the system of higher education; a record of scholarly activity including publication and application for external research funding; experience teaching at the graduate level; involvement in national conferences; and experience in the development of graduate-level courses.

Responsibilities: The successful candidate will be expected to establish and pursue an active research and publication agenda; participate in program area, department, and college activities; teach existing and new courses in the emphases noted; advise master’s and Ph.D. students; work collaboratively with colleagues across the campus and in other institutions as appropriate; and provide professional service in appropriate regional, national, and international organizations.

Applications
Application review will begin April 1, 2012, and continue until the position is filled. The position is expected to begin in Fall of 2012. Applicants must submit a letter of application, current vita, a sample of scholarly writing, unofficial transcript, and the names and contact information of three references. Submissions should be in MS Word or PDF format and be emailed to edah@ou.edu. Questions may be directed to Dr. Doo Hun Lim at doolim@yahoo.com
