The U.S. and Iran:
From Secret Negotiations to Restored Relations?

A talk with
Suzanne DiMaggio

Monday, February 23 at 4:30 p.m.

Mary Eddy and Fred Jones Auditorium
at the Fred Jones Jr. Museum of Art

Suzanne DiMaggio is a Director and Senior Fellow at New America, where her work focuses on the organization’s growing body of international security projects related to the Middle East and Asia. Based at New America NYC, she is the Director of The Iran Initiative. An expert dialogue practitioner, she has been leading Track II diplomatic initiatives with partners in the Middle East and Asia on regional security, terrorism, nonproliferation, and governance since 2002. She has a special interest in the role of unofficial policy dialogue with countries that the US has limited official relations with, particularly Iran, Myanmar, and North Korea. Before joining New America, she was the Vice President of Global Policy Programs at the Asia Society (2007-2014), and the Vice President of Policy Studies at the United Nations Association of the USA (UNA-USA; 1998-2007). She holds a B.A. from New York University and an M.A. from The City College of New York (CUNY).
