The College of International Studies, in collaboration with the South Central Modern Language Association (SCMLA), is pleased to announce a research paper competition open to all International and Area Studies majors, minors, and graduate students. The winning paper, chosen by a committee of scholars, will receive a $250 cash prize and will automatically be submitted for consideration to the SCMLA for the organization’s annual conference, which is typically held in the fall. The SCMLA is a professional organization of scholars of international languages and literatures. This is an excellent chance for IAS majors to participate in scholarly dialogue with other researchers. If the winning paper is accepted to the SCMLA conference, its author will receive up to $750 in travel expenses to attend the conference and to present her or his paper.

Please see the details below for this excellent opportunity for academic and professional development:

- ELIGIBILITY: The prize is open to all International and Area Studies minors, majors, and graduate students
- AREAS OF RESEARCH: Papers should be in the areas of African, Arabic, East Asian, or Luso-Brazilian literature, language, and/or culture. Interdisciplinary perspectives are especially welcome.
- FORMAT AND GUIDELINES FOR SUBMISSION: Candidates should submit the application form (below) and 5 copies of their abstract and research paper in the format outlined below. The abstract should be 150-300 words and should contain a heading with the author’s name, contact information, and the title of the paper. The paper itself should be 10-12 pages, double spaced, 12 pt. Times font, in MLA (Modern Language Association) format. Please write the title on the paper heading, but omit the author’s name and contact information. Papers should be in English, however papers in the language of the author’s research country will be considered provided qualified speakers of that language can be found to evaluate the paper. Please submit the application form and 5 hard copies of your paper and abstract to: Suzette Grillot, Associate Dean, College of International Studies, OU, 729 Elm Ave., Hester Hall 150, Norman, OK 73019

DEADLINE: The deadline for submission is February 1st. Winners will be announced by March 1st.

IMPORTANT NOTE

If for some reason you are unable to complete the program, you will be required to return the full amount of your award to the College of International Studies.
