

Indigenous Film at OU

Media that portray the life, cultures, conflicts, and history of resistance of indigenous people of Mexico as captured by indigenous filmmakers--not through the lens of foreign cameras

April 27 and 28

Co-sponsored by the OU College of Law, the Department of Communication, the School of International and Area Studies and the Women's Studies Program

Alexandra Halkin

from the Chiapas Media Project

Filoteo Gomez

Mixe Filmmaker

Monday, April 27

Mediating Indigenous Rights: Video from Southern Mexico

Screening:

*The Land Belongs to Those Who Work It
Dulce Convivencia (Sweet Gathering)*

OU College of Law Bell Courtroom

4 - 5:30 p.m.

Reception to follow

Tuesday, April 28

The Chiapas Media Project

Screening:

Paying the Price: Migrant Workers in the Toxic Fields of Sinaloa

Burton Hall 205

12 - 1:15 p.m.

