Have you ever thought about teaching? Or wondered what goes into planning a course? From developing benchmarks and organizing a scope & sequence to planning activities and creating materials, this course looks at all aspects of curriculum design. Although the primary focus is on teaching endangered languages, the principles apply to most any classroom situation.