What it’s really like to be on “Top of the World”

Luminous glaciers, snow-covered mountainous landscapes, pristine fjords, massive sheets of ice, uniquely shaped icebergs and Arctic wildlife—these wondrous sights will unfold around you on this once-in-a-lifetime expedition into the untouched Arctic’s remote Svalbard archipelago. Be on the lookout for bearded seals and massive walruses resting on the ice and numerous species of whales; evanescent Arctic foxes; graceful Svalbard reindeer grazing on the Arctic’s tundra; and Arctic terns and fulmar gliding to and from cliffs. Look for the King of the Arctic—the iconic polar bear—in its natural habitat, hunting seals and traveling over sea ice. The ethereal glow of the Midnight Sun will enhance the true beauty of this extraordinary archipelago as you follow in the footsteps of polar pioneers before you in their quest to reach the “Top of the World.”

Longyearbyen, Svalbard, Norway

Your Arctic Expedition launches in the small mining town of Longyearbyen, the Norwegian Svalbard archipelago’s capital, at 78 degrees North latitude. Approximately 650 miles from the North Pole, this glacial outpost—the northernmost capital territory in the world—is framed by a breathtaking backdrop of shimmering glaciers carved into deep fjords where whale sightings are common. Enjoy a glimpse of daily life in the Arctic at the Longyearbyen Culture House before embarking L’Austral.

Hornsund/Samarin Glacier

An expert naturalist-led excursion navigates slow-drifting ice by Zodiac in the pristine bay of Burgerbukta to reach the majestic Samarin Glacier. A walk along the glacier reveals magical icy realms. Look for bearded seals relaxing on floating icebergs and a variety of seabirds, including black-legged kittiwakes, little auks, king eiders and Brünnich’s guillemots that transport nutrients to cliff tops, Luminous glaciers, snow-covered mountainous landscapes, pristine fjords, massive sheets of ice, uniquely shaped icebergs and Arctic wildlife—these wondrous sights will unfold around you on this once-in-a-lifetime expedition into the untouched Arctic’s remote Svalbard archipelago. Cruising the Arctic Ice Pack
Approach the Arctic Ice Pack at the approximate latitude of 80 degrees North. Survey expansive sea ice for the King of the Arctic—the vulnerable polar bear. The edges of pack ice, where currents and wind interact, are crucial for this apex predator’s hunting as they search for seals within a melting and refreezing matrix of ice patches.

Keep a keen eye out for these solitary, well-adapted creatures, which are known to travel hundreds of miles from land on floating ice. Scan the cobalt-blue waters for endangered bowhead whales—among the longest surviving species in the world with a life span of up to 200 years—and social beluga whales.

Woodfjorden/Monaco Glacier

One of Svalbard’s longest fjords, Woodfjorden carves its way 40 miles inland, linking the Liefde Fjord with the Arctic Ocean. Woodfjorden showcases the Arctic’s contrasts—icy, glacier-fronted shores are juxtaposed against a ridge of deep-red Devonian sandstone. The mountains’ high iron oxide content has fascinated geologists, suggesting that Svalbard might have once been located near the equator. This biologically rich biome supports ringed, bearded and harp seals, and walruses can be seen on the beaches. Cruise alongside the blue-striated walls of Monaco Glacier, a startlingly beautiful vision. Listen for the sound of tidewater glaciers cracking as they calve into the ocean.

Raudfjorden

Your expert naturalist guides lead an exploration of protected Raudfjorden amidst Svalbard poppies. Look for rare seabirds, such as pink-footed geese, black-legged kittiwakes and glaucous gulls.

Enjoy a Zodiac excursion to the formerly bustling, 17th-century Dutch whaling station of Smeerenburg, today a prized resting shore for walruses.

Ny-Ålesund

Discover the hub of scientific exploration, Ny-Ålesund, where 16 international research stations function as both lab and living quarters for scientists affiliated with their country’s polar research institute. A former coal mining facility founded in 1916, this remote outpost is a fluid boundary between civilization and nature and was the launching pad for legendary Arctic explorer Roald Amundsen.

An excursion by Zodiac through the inlet of Kongsfjorden takes you to the tidewater Kongsbreen (King’s Glacier), a nesting ground for barnacle geese, common and king eiders, long-tailed ducks, purple sandpipers, Atlantic puffins and snow buntings.

The team’s collaborative efforts, experience, specialized knowledge in the Arctic’s ecosystems and enthusiasm for sharing their expertise adds extraordinary depth and insight to your Arctic Expedition under the Midnight Sun.
