Program Student Learning Outcomes

College:  Arts & Science
Program:  Health Promotions, MS

- Students will demonstrate mastery of the research methods and related literature in their area of study.

- Students will demonstrate mastery of conducting independent research in the form of a Thesis in their area of study.

- Hybrid students will explain historical issues related to his/her area of specialization, principles related to the scientific investigation in health and exercise science, and principles related to his/her individual area of specialization.