Program Student Learning Outcomes

College:  Education
Program:  Special Education, PhD

- Upon completion of the degree program, students should be able to:
  1) Explain different research methods used by special education researchers.
  2) Describe major trends and issues in chosen special education specialty area.
  3) Write an appropriate research question with matching research methodology to answer the question.
  4) Carry out a research study and write the results in an appropriate format for dissemination.