Program Student Learning Outcomes

College:  Fine Arts
Program:  Art History, MA

Graduates of the MA program in Art History should be able to demonstrate:

- Visual and historiographical literacy – students should have the ability to identify works of art and architecture from a wide range of time periods and places and to understand their historical context and cultural importance.

- Critical thinking – here we want to assess the students’ ability to think critically, analytically, and conceptually about art with an understanding of the theoretical frameworks of art.

- Communication skills – here we want to assess the ability of the student to write and speak about art effectively.

- Research skills – here we assess a synthesis of all these skills, together with a demonstration of original ideas that are well researched and documented.
