College:  International Studies
Program:  International Studies, BA

Students who complete the baccalaureate in International and Area Studies will:

- Have developed the critical, analytic and synthetic abilities necessary for understanding complex international phenomena, and functioning effectively in societies around the world.

- Synthesize their learning through the development of a final capstone project which will showcase their analytic skills.