It is a pleasure to announce that Professor Jon Young, Associate Professor of Drama, has been named the Weitzenhoffer Family College of Fine Arts 2016 Irene and Julian J. Rothbaum Presidential Professor of Excellence in the Arts.

Professor Young joined the University of Oklahoma’s Helmerich School of Drama faculty in 2009. His primary teaching responsibilities center on scenic design, scenic painting and production. In addition to his teaching duties, Jon Young is the Area Coordinator for Design and Production and a Recruitment Team member for the Helmerich School of Drama.

Professor Young has received national recognition for his teaching efforts. In 2015 he received the coveted Golden Medallion for commitment to teaching Excellence from the national Kennedy Center American College Theatre Festival. He also received one of seven National Teaching Artist Awards from the Kennedy Center Festival in Washington, D.C. in 2008.

Designs by Professor Young have been exhibited and published internationally. His scenic designs have been displayed at the United States Institute for Theatre Technology national conference in Salt Lake City, Utah and Long Beach, California. Both were chosen for publication in the juried journal, TD & T. Professor Young’s designs have been included in the World Stage Design Digital Catalogue. In 2009, his scenic design for After Juliet was selected and exhibited in World Stage Design, Seoul, South Korea. Professor Young’s design portfolio was featured in the Portfolio Library at the Prague Quadrennial in the Czech Republic.

In Professor Young’s Statement of Teaching Philosophy, he writes, “I believe the educator must establish a relationship with the student based on their individual backgrounds and plans for the future. The goal of each student is different, and it is an instructor’s responsibility to help prepare the student to achieve these goals. Once a nurturing relationship has been established and trust is no longer an issue, the learning experience can thrive.”

Please join me in congratulating Professor Jon Young in receiving this prestigious award.
