May Intersession 2018
ou.edu/intersession

⇒ You can enroll in May Intersession classes when you enroll in your spring 2018 classes
⇒ May Intersession is considered part of the spring 2018 semester. This means, it’s included in your spring 2018 Flat Rate Tuition!
⇒ Students can enroll in one class per intersession (you’re squeezing an entire semester into 4 weeks!)
⇒ Since May Intersession is considered part of the spring 2018 semester, you will need to request Enrollment Overload Permission if you enroll in more than 17 hours in the spring semester and want to also enroll in a May Intersession class. This would put you over the max of 19 hours in a semester. The Enrollment Overload Request is available here. When completed, bring the form to the Fine Arts Dean’s Office or email to elizabeth.nunley@ou.edu or mroca@ou.edu.
⇒ You will find May Intersession classes in the spring 2018 class schedule:

  - Classnav.ou.edu: Select “spring 2018” for semester and “spring session” for Term Length
  - ONE.ou.edu: Select “spring 2018”, use the Advanced Search option, select “spring session” for Part of Term

FLAT RATE TUITION

Students are encouraged to take at least 15 per semester in order to receive maximum benefit from flat-rate tuition.

All the information below, plus more, is available at the Flat Rate Tuition website.

⇒ Part-time undergraduate students enrolled in 1 - 11 hours per semester will be charged tuition per credit hour.
⇒ Undergraduate students enrolled in 12 hours or more per semester will be charged the flat rate based on current tuition for 15 hours.
⇒ College program and technology, additional academic excellence, and course fees will be charged at a per credit hour rate.
⇒ Summer courses will continue to be charged on a per credit hour basis.
⇒ Full-time undergraduate students who are registered for less than 30 hours combined for fall and spring (but pay the flat-rate) may be eligible to participate in the summer session incentive program (banked hours).
⇒ Full-time undergraduate students who are charged the flat rate and take fewer than 15 hours per semester may be able to bank hours to use in the summer. The hours a student has banked will automatically be used to reduce summer charges for tuition and mandatory hourly fees.
⇒ A petition is available to request an exemption from flat rate tuition for students that must enroll in less than 15 hours per semester. Click here for Request for Exemption Form.

Do you know how to find General Education Approved Classes and make sure your classes are fulfilling degree requirements?

classnav.ou.edu

Use the Gen Ed Type box to select the General Education Category.

ONE.ou.edu

Select the semester, select Advanced Search, select the Gen Ed category from the Attribute box.

degree.ou.edu

Degree Navigator updates at 5pm everyday. After you have enrolled in your classes, check your Degree Navigator pattern the next day to make sure the course is fulfilling the degree requirement you intended.

Let us know if you have questions!
It is my pleasure to announce that Dr. Karl Sievers, Professor of Music, School of Music, has been named the 2017 Weitzenhoffer Family College of Fine Arts Irene and Julian J. Rothbaum Presidential Professor of Excellence in the Arts.

In 1999, Dr. Sievers joined the University of Oklahoma’s School of Music faculty as a Professor of Trumpet and has served as the area chair since coming to the School of Music. He has served as Chair of the OU Compensation Committee, as a Faculty Senator, an Advisor to all Brass and Percussion performance majors, and has served on many Master of Music and Doctor of Musical Arts committees.

Students of Dr. Sievers have graduated from the program to take positions in performance, education, and outside the music discipline (medical school, law school, architecture, and more). They have been accepted in significant numbers into the very best graduate programs in the United States. In the National Trumpet Competition, Dr. Sievers’ students have won awards in literally every category available to them. The only schools in the USA with comparable achievements are Juilliard and Northwestern.

Dr. Sievers has served as a member of the Board of Directors of the most important organization of trumpeters in the world, the International Trumpet Guild. He also serves on its editorial committee as a jurist for the article selection process. He has presented at many ITG International Conferences for the past 30 years. Further, he was the General Manager and on the Advisory Board for the National Trumpet Competition, one of the most important trumpet competitions in the world, for a period of 20 years. He created and hosted the William Adam International Trumpet Festival 2014-2016. He is an active guest artist/clinician, performing and teaching around the country with university, high school, and middle school groups. Closer to home, Dr. Sievers maintains an abundant performance schedule, as a member of the OU Faculty Brass Quintet, as a soloist, and as Principal Trumpeter with the Oklahoma City Philharmonic.

Please join me in congratulating and celebrating the accomplishment of Dr. Sievers being named our 2017 Weitzenhoffer Family College of Fine Arts Irene and Julian J. Rothbaum Professor of Excellence in the Arts.

The Compass Network is an initiative aimed at helping undergraduate students overcome personal challenges to their success at OU. Students work one-on-one with one of our staff to create an action plan to address the issue(s) impeding their success. Students should contact the Compass Network with any issue they feel is getting in the way of their ability to create success at OU. These issues may include but most definitely are not limited to the following.

- Choosing a Major
- Home Sickness
- Improving GPA
- Financial Concerns
- Improving Study Skills
