The annual OU student art show takes place each spring and highlights the diverse works of art created by art and art history students from the University of Oklahoma. Multiple cash awards are presented to students including the top award, the Tag. Marys Purchase Award, offered to a student whose artwork becomes a part of the museum’s permanent collection. This year's guest juror is American painter Michael Ray Charles, Professor of Art at the University of Texas at Austin.

Allan Houser: An Oklahoma Perspective
This exhibition is presented as part of the Oklahoma Bicentennial. Because of the intimacy and accessibility of the medium, photography offers a unique opportunity to view Indigenous peoples through the eyes of indigenous photographers. The images presented in the exhibition explore their creators’ connections to their land, community and traditions. Various photographic approaches of the artists challenge audiences to examine the stereotypes, politics and histories associated with indigenous peoples. This exhibition is organized by guest curator Veronica Passalacqua of the C. N. Gorman Museum at the University of California, Davis, and is a program of ExhibitsUSA, a national division of the American Association of State and Local History.

Oil and Wood: George Bogart and Jim Henkle
Nancy Johnstone Records Gallery
June 7 – Sep 14
This exhibition pairs the work of two distinguished professors in the School of Art and Art History: George Bogart and Jim Henkle. Bogart, who joined the faculty in 1970, experimented restlessly with oil paint, and the exhibition offers a retrospective of his career. The furniture designs of James Henkle offer a sculptural counterpart to the paintings of Bogart. Henkle taught design at OU for nearly 40 years and, although he worked in a variety of media, he excelled in the design of modern furniture.

Museum Association members and their guests are invited to a private opening reception Friday, June 7, 7–9 p.m.
