Criteria and procedures for appointment to the Graduate Faculty
Department of History

Section 1 - Graduate Faculty Committee

Two members of Committee A (to include the Chair) and the Chair of the Graduate Studies Committee shall constitute the Graduate Faculty Committee. The Graduate Faculty Committee shall review the qualifications of faculty for membership
on the Graduate Faculty and make recommendations for appointment to the Dean of the Graduate College and to the Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences.

Qualifications and duties of members of the Graduate Faculty

As defined in the Charter of the Graduate Faculty (Article IV, Section 2), the status of "Member" entitles faculty to teach graduate-level courses, to serve on Master's committees, and to direct Master's theses. Members of the Graduate Faculty with the doctorate may serve on doctoral committees. Appointment
as member of the Graduate Faculty extends over seven years.
That status shall be reviewed by the Graduate Faculty Committee for renewal or change of status toward the close of the seven-year period, or sooner if the faculty member requests.

Each member of the Department of History faculty who is already a member of the Graduate Faculty shall automatically be recommended for reappointment to the Graduate Faculty for one academic year following approval of this document. Thereafter all tenured faculty shall be evaluated per Article IV, Section 3, for the seven year period, and according to the departmental criteria defined below.

All current untenured assistant professors and all future
entry-level assistant professors with a recently completed
Ph.D. degree and one year of satisfactory service shall be recommended automatically for appointment to the graduate Faculty for a term of seven years. If need arises, a beginning assistant professor may be appointed to the Graduate Faculty during the first year of service as a Special Member. Faculty appointed at the rank of advanced assistant professor or higher shall be judged according to the criteria of scholarly performance described subsequently.

To be recommended for membership on the Graduate Faculty
or for renewal of that status, professors; associate professors, and advanced assistant professors must demonstrate continuing
original scholarly activity over the preceding seven year period including published works of independent synthesis
in book or article form, scholarly editions, review articles for scholarly journals, book reviews for scholarly journals, and conference papers. The Graduate Faculty Committee shall base its recommendation on a review of both the quality and quantity of the individual's scholarly activity over the preceding seven years. While the committee shall take into account all forms of scholarly activity, published, refereed work of independent synthesis in book or article form shall receive primary consideration for recommendation as Member of the Graduate Faculty or for renewal of that status.

Faculty may appeal decisions of the Graduate Faculty Committee and of the Dean of the Graduate College regarding graduate faculty status according to the procedures described in the Charter of the Graduate Faculty (Article IV, sect. 1b). If the Graduate Faculty Committee decides to recommend a reduction in an individual's status in the Graduate Faculty, that individual shall have one probationary year and the Committee shall reconsider the individual's record at the end of the year before the decision can take effect (See Charter, Article IV, sect. 3b).

Qualifications for Directing Dissertations

Professors of history, associate professors, and individuals appointed to the faculty as advanced assistant professors who are recommended by the Graduate Faculty Committee for the status of Member of the Graduate Faculty may also be recommended to direct or co-direct dissertations. Assistant professors of history appointed at the entry level with recently completed doctorates shall be considered by the Graduate Faculty Committee for eligibility to direct or co-direct dissertations at the end of two years as a member of the Department. The Committee shall recommend such assistant professors for eligibility to direct dissertations if their performance by that time demonstrates significant scholarly activity including at least one refereed scholarly article or book accepted for publication as well as conference papers, reviews, or scholarly editions.
Faculty may appeal the decisions of the Graduate Faculty Committee and of the Graduate Dean regarding direction of dissertations or request reconsideration of their status according to the provisions of the Charter of the Graduate Faculty (Article IV, sect. 1b and sect. 3b).

Procedures for Naming Special Members of the Graduate Faculty

Members of the faculty of the Department of History who are not Members of the Graduate Faculty can be accorded the status of Special Member of the Graduate Faculty for a period of one year when special need arises to offer a particular graduate course or to serve on a master's or doctoral committee (See Charter, Article IV, sect. 2b). The Graduate Faculty Committee shall establish criteria and make recommendations to the Graduate Dean as appropriate to each case.
Criteria and procedures for appointment to the Graduate Faculty
Department of History

Section 1 - Graduate Faculty Committee
Two members of Committee A (to include the Chair) and the Chair of the Graduate Studies Committee shall constitute the Graduate Faculty Committee. The Graduate Faculty Committee shall review the qualifications of faculty for membership
on the Graduate Faculty and make recommendations for appointment
to the Dean of the Graduate College and to the Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences.

Qualifications and duties of members of the Graduate Faculty
As defined in the Charter of the Graduate Faculty (Article IV, Section 2), the status of "Member" entitles faculty to teach graduate-level courses, to serve on Master's committees, and to direct Master's theses. Members of the Graduate Faculty with the doctorate may serve on doctoral committees. Appointment
as member of the Graduate Faculty extends over seven years.
That status shall be reviewed by the Graduate Faculty Committee for renewal or change of status toward the close of the seven-
year period, or sooner if the faculty member requests.

Each member of the Department of History faculty who is already a member of the Graduate Faculty shall automatically
be recommended for reappointment to the Graduate Faculty for one academic year following approval of this document. Thereafter all tenured faculty shall be evaluated per Article IV, Section 3, for the seven year period, and according to the departmental criteria defined below.

All current untenured assistant professors and all future entry-level assistant professors with a recently completed Ph.D. degree and one year of satisfactory service shall be recommended automatically for appointment to the graduate Faculty for a term of seven years. If need arises, a beginning assistant professor may be appointed to the Graduate Faculty during the first year of service as a Special Member. Faculty appointed at the rank of advanced assistant professor or higher shall be judged according to the criteria of scholarly performance described subsequently.

To be recommended for membership on the Graduate Faculty or for renewal of that status, professors, associate professors, and advanced assistant professors must demonstrate continuing original scholarly activity over the preceding seven year period including published works of independent synthesis in book or article form, scholarly editions, review articles for scholarly journals, book reviews for scholarly journals, and conference papers. The Graduate Faculty Committee shall base its recommendation on a review of both the quality and quantity of the individual's scholarly activity over the preceding seven years. While the committee shall take into account all forms of scholarly activity, published, refereed work of independent synthesis in book or article form shall receive primary consideration for recommendation as Member of the Graduate Faculty or for renewal of that status.

Faculty may appeal decisions of the Graduate Faculty Committee and of the Dean of the Graduate College regarding graduate faculty status according to the procedures described in the Charter of the Graduate Faculty (Article IV, sect. 1b). If the Graduate Faculty Committee decides to recommend a reduction in an individual's status in the Graduate Faculty, that individual shall have one probationary year and the Committee shall reconsider the individual's record at the end of the year before the decision can take effect (See Charter, Article IV, sect. 3b).

Qualifications for Directing Dissertations

Professors of history, associate professors, and individuals appointed to the faculty as advanced assistant professors who are recommended by the Graduate Faculty Committee for the status of Member of the Graduate Faculty may also be recommended to direct or co-direct dissertations. Assistant professors of history appointed at the entry level with recently completed doctorates shall be considered by the Graduate Faculty Committee for eligibility to direct or co-direct dissertations at the end of two years as a member of the Department. The Committee shall recommend such assistant professors for eligibility to direct dissertations if their performance by that time demonstrates significant scholarly activity including at least one refereed scholarly article or book accepted for publication as well as conference papers, reviews, or scholarly editions.
Faculty may appeal the decisions of the Graduate Faculty Committee and of the Graduate Dean regarding direction of dissertations or request reconsideration of their status according to the provisions of the Charter of the Graduate Faculty (Article IV, sect. 1b and sect. 3b).

Procedures for Naming Special Members of the Graduate Faculty

Members of the faculty of the Department of History who are not Members of the Graduate Faculty can be accorded the status of Special Member of the Graduate Faculty for a period of one year when special need arises to offer a particular graduate course or to serve on a master's or doctoral committee (See Charter, Article IV, sect. 2b). The Graduate Faculty Committee shall establish criteria and make recommendations to the Graduate Dean as appropriate to each case.
Dec. 1, 1993

Graduate Council:

This has been routed to our budget dean, from whom we hope you will receive it too, but we thought you should get this as soon as possible.

Dan Smith
November 30, 1993

Graduate Council

Sirs:

Please find here the revised criteria for the graduate faculty recently adopted by the Department of History. We eliminated book reviews and conference papers as counting as significant scholarly activity.

Sincerely,

[Signature]
Daniel C. Snell
Graduate Liaison

DCS:cg
Enclosure
Graduate Faculty Criteria Worksheet

Department | History
---|---
Normal Term | 7 years (may not exceed seven years)

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Degree(s) Required</th>
<th>Research/Creative Activities required</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>M0 May teach graduate courses.</td>
<td>Over last seven years at least one work of synthesis as book or article, scholarly edition, review article, or one year's service for beginning assistant professors.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>M1 All M0 privileges and service on Masters Committees, may also direct Master's theses</td>
<td>As above</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>M2 All M1 privileges; may also serve on doctoral committees.</td>
<td>As above</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>M3 All M2 privileges; may also direct doctoral dissertations.</td>
<td>As above, but two year's service for beginning assistant professor if they have an article or book or scholarly edition, or conference paper, or book review accepted for publication.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Special Member
Duties as approved by Graduate Dean; maximum term is two years.

Approvals

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Department Graduate Faculty Committee</th>
<th>Daniel C. Snell</th>
<th>[Signature]</th>
<th>Nov. 30, 93</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Department Graduate Faculty Committee</td>
<td>Donald J. Pisani</td>
<td>[Signature]</td>
<td>12/1/93</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Department Graduate Faculty Committee</td>
<td>Robert L. Griswold</td>
<td>[Signature]</td>
<td>12/1/93</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Department Graduate Faculty Committee</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Chair/Director</td>
<td>H. Wayne Morgan</td>
<td>[Signature]</td>
<td>11/30/93</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Budget Dean</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Graduate Dean</td>
<td>Eddie Carol Smith or William O. Ray</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Criteria and procedures for appointment to the Graduate Faculty
Department of History

Graduate Faculty Committee
Two members of Committee A (to include the Chair) and the Chair of the Graduate Studies Committee shall constitute the Graduate Faculty Committee. The Graduate Faculty Committee shall review
the qualifications of faculty for membership on the Graduate Faculty and make recommendations for appointment to the Dean of the Graduate College and to the Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences.

Qualifications and duties of members of the Graduate Faculty
As defined in the Charter of the Graduate Faculty (Article IV, Section 2), the status of "Member" entitles faculty to teach graduate-level courses, to serve on Master's committees, and to direct Master's theses. Members of the Graduate Faculty with the doctorate may serve on doctoral committees. Appointment as member of the Graduate Faculty extends over seven years. That status shall be reviewed by the Graduate Faculty Committee for renewal or change of status toward the close of the seven-year period, or sooner if the faculty member requests.

Each member of the Department of History faculty who is already a member of the Graduate Faculty shall automatically be recommended for reappointment to the Graduate Faculty for one academic year following approval of this document. Thereafter
all tenured faculty shall be evaluated per Article IV, Section 3, for the seven-year period, and according to the departmental criteria defined below.

All current untenured assistant professors and all future entry-level assistant professors with a recently completed Ph.D. degree and one year of satisfactory service shall be recommended automatically for appointment to the graduate Faculty for a term of seven years. If need arises, a beginning assistant professor may be appointed to the Graduate Faculty during the first year of service as a Special Member. Faculty appointed at the rank of advanced assistant professor or higher shall be judged according to the criteria of scholarly performance described subsequently.

To be recommended for membership on the Graduate Faculty or for renewal of that status, professors, associate professors, and advanced assistant professors must demonstrate continuing original scholarly activity over the preceding seven-year period including published works of independent synthesis in book or article form, scholarly editions and review articles for scholarly journals. The Graduate Faculty Committee shall base its recommendation on a review of both the quality and quantity of the individual’s scholarly activity over the preceding seven years. While the committee shall take into account all forms of scholarly activity, published, refereed work of independent synthesis in book or article form shall receive primary consideration for recommendation as Member of the Graduate Faculty or for renewal of that status.

Faculty may appeal decisions of the Graduate Faculty
Committee and of the Dean of the Graduate College regarding graduate faculty status according to the procedures described in the Charter of the Graduate Faculty (article IV, sect. 1b). If the Graduate Faculty Committee decides to recommend a reduction in an individual's status in the Graduate Faculty, that individual shall have one probationary year and the Committee shall reconsider the individual's record at the end of the year before the decision can take effect (See Charter, Article IV, sect. 3b).

Qualifications for Directing Dissertations
Professors of history, associate professors, and individuals appointed to the faculty as advanced assistant professors who are recommended by the Graduate Faculty Committee for the status of Member of the Graduate Faculty may also be recommended to direct or co-direct dissertations. Assistant professors of history appointed at the entry level with recently completed doctorates shall be considered by the Graduate Faculty Committee for eligibility to direct or co-direct dissertations at the end of two years service in the Department. The Committee shall recommend such assistant professors for eligibility to direct dissertations if their performance by that time demonstrates significant scholarly activity including at least one refereed scholarly article or book accepted for publication as well as conference papers, reviews, or scholarly editions.

Faculty may appeal the decisions of the Graduate Faculty Committee and of the Graduate Dean regarding direction of dissertations or request reconsideration of their status according to the provisions of the Charter of the Graduate Faculty (Article IV, sect. 1b and sect. 3b).

Procedures for Naming Special Members of the Graduate Faculty

Members of the faculty of the Department of History who are not Members of the Graduate Faculty may be accorded the status of Special member of the Graduate Faculty for a period of one year when special need arises to offer a particular graduate course or to serve on a master's or doctoral committee (See Charter, Article IV, sect. 2b). The Graduate Faculty Committee shall establish criteria and make recommendations to the Graduate Dean as appropriate to each case.
November 30, 1993

Graduate Council

Sirs:

Please find here the revised criteria for the graduate faculty recently adopted by the Department of History. We eliminated book reviews and conference papers as counting as significant scholarly activity.

Sincerely,

[Signature]

Daniel C. Snell
Graduate Liaison

DCS: cg

Enclosure
Graduate Faculty Criteria Worksheet

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Degree(s) Required</th>
<th>Research/Creative Activities required</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>M0 May teach graduate courses.</td>
<td>Over last seven years at least one work of synthesis as book or article, scholarly edition, review article, or one year's service for beginning assistant professors.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>M1 All M0 privileges and service on Masters Committees, may also direct Master's theses</td>
<td>As above</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>M2 All M1 privileges; may also serve on doctoral committees.</td>
<td>Doctorate or equivalent</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>M3 All M2 privileges; may also direct doctoral dissertations.</td>
<td>Doctorate or equivalent</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Special Member Duties as approved by Graduate Dean; maximum term is two years.</td>
<td>As above, but two year's service for beginning assistant professor if they have an article or book or scholarly edition, or conference paper, or book review accepted for publication.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Approvals

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Department Graduate Faculty Committee</th>
<th>Typed Name</th>
<th>Signature</th>
<th>Date</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Daniel C. Snell</td>
<td>Nov. 30, 93</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Donald J. Pisani</td>
<td>12/1/93</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Robert L. Griswold</td>
<td>12/9/93</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

| Chair/Director | H. Wayne Morgan | 11/20/93 |
| Budget Dean | Eddie Carol Smith or William O. Ray | 12/9/93 |
Criteria and procedures for appointment to the Graduate Faculty
Department of History

Graduate Faculty Committee

Two members of Committee A (to include the Chair) and the Chair
of the Graduate Studies Committee shall constitute the Graduate Faculty Committee. The Graduate Faculty Committee shall review
the qualifications of faculty for membership on the Graduate Faculty and make recommendations for appointment to the Dean of the Graduate College and to the Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences.

Qualifications and duties of members of the Graduate Faculty

As defined in the Charter of the Graduate Faculty (Article IV, Section 2), the status of "Member" entitles faculty to teach graduate-level courses, to serve on Master’s committees, and to direct Master’s theses. Members of the Graduate Faculty with the doctorate may serve on doctoral committees. Appointment as member of the Graduate Faculty extends over seven years. That status shall be reviewed by the Graduate Faculty Committee for renewal or change of status toward the close of the seven-year period, or sooner if the faculty member requests.

Each member of the Department of History faculty who is already a member of the Graduate Faculty shall automatically be recommended for reappointment to the Graduate Faculty for one academic year following approval of this document. Thereafter
all tenured faculty shall be evaluated per Article IV, Section 3, for the seven-year period, and according to the departmental criteria defined below.

All current untenured assistant professors and all future entry-level assistant professors with a recently completed Ph.D. degree and one year of satisfactory service shall be recommended automatically for appointment to the graduate Faculty for a term of seven years. If need arises, a beginning assistant professor may be appointed to the Graduate Faculty during the first year of service as a Special Member. Faculty appointed at the rank of advanced assistant professor or higher shall be judged according to the criteria of scholarly performance described subsequently.

To be recommended for membership on the Graduate Faculty or for renewal of that status, professors, associate professors, and advanced assistant professors must demonstrate continuing original scholarly activity over the preceding seven-year period including published works of independent synthesis in book or article form, scholarly editions, and review articles for scholarly journals. The Graduate Faculty Committee shall base its recommendation on a review of both the quality and quantity of the individual’s scholarly activity over the preceding seven years. While the committee shall take into account all forms of scholarly activity, published, refereed work of independent synthesis in book or article form shall receive primary consideration for recommendation as Member of the Graduate Faculty or for renewal of that status.

Faculty may appeal decisions of the Graduate Faculty
Committee and of the Dean of the Graduate College regarding graduate faculty status according to the procedures described in the Charter of the Graduate Faculty (article IV, sect. 1b). If the Graduate Faculty Committee decides to recommend a reduction in an individual's status in the Graduate Faculty, that individual shall have one probationary year and the Committee shall reconsider the individual's record at the end of the year before the decision can take effect (See Charter, Article IV, sect. 3b).

Qualifications for Directing Dissertations

Professors of history, associate professors, and individuals appointed to the faculty as advanced assistant professors who are recommended by the Graduate Faculty Committee for the status of Member of the Graduate Faculty may also be recommended to direct or co-direct dissertations. Assistant professors of history appointed at the entry level with recently completed doctorates shall be considered by the Graduate Faculty Committee for eligibility to direct or co-direct dissertations at the end of two years service in the Department. The Committee shall recommend such assistant professors for eligibility to direct dissertations if their performance by that time demonstrates significant scholarly activity including at least one refereed scholarly article or book accepted for publication as well as conference papers, reviews, or scholarly editions.

Faculty may appeal the decisions of the Graduate Faculty Committee and of the Graduate Dean regarding direction of dissertations or request reconsideration of their status according to the provisions of the Charter of the Graduate Faculty (Article IV, sect. 1b and sect. 3b).

Procedures for Naming Special Members of the Graduate Faculty

Members of the faculty of the Department of History who are not Members of the Graduate Faculty may be accorded the status of Special member of the Graduate Faculty for a period of one year when special need arises to offer a particular graduate course or to serve on a master’s or doctoral committee (See Charter, Article IV, sect. 2b). The Graduate Faculty Committee shall establish criteria and make recommendations to the Graduate Dean as appropriate to each case.
Criteria and procedures for appointment to the Graduate Faculty
Department of History

Section 1 - Graduate Faculty Committee

Two members of Committee A (to include the Chair) and the Chair of the Graduate Studies Committee shall constitute the Graduate Faculty Committee. The Graduate Faculty Committee shall review the qualifications of faculty for membership on the Graduate Faculty and make recommendations for appointment to the Dean of the Graduate College and to the Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences.

Qualifications and duties of members of the Graduate Faculty
As defined in the Charter of the Graduate Faculty (Article IV, Section 2), the status of "Member" entitles faculty to teach graduate-level courses, to serve on Master's committees, and to direct Master's theses. Members of the Graduate Faculty with the doctorate may serve on doctoral committees. Appointment as member of the Graduate Faculty extends over seven years. That status shall be reviewed by the Graduate Faculty Committee for renewal or change of status toward the close of the seven-year period, or sooner if the faculty member requests.

Each member of the Department of History faculty who is already a member of the Graduate Faculty shall automatically be recommended for reappointment to the Graduate Faculty for one academic year following approval of this document. Thereafter all tenured faculty shall be evaluated per Article IV, Section 3, for the seven-year period, and according to the departmental criteria defined below.

All current untenured assistant professors and all follow-
entry-level assistant professors with a recently completed
Ph.D. degree and one year of satisfactory service shall be recommended automatically for appointment to the graduate Faculty for a term of seven years. If need arises, a beginning
assistant professor may be appointed to the Graduate Faculty during the first year of service as a Special Teacher. Faculty appointed at the rank of advanced assistant professor or higher shall be judged according to the criteria for scholarly performance described subsequently.

To be recommended for membership on the Graduate Faculty
or for renewal of that status, professors, associate professors,
and advanced assistant professors must demonstrate continuing
original scholarly activity over the preceding seven year
period including published works of independent synthesis
in book or article form, scholarly editions, review articles
for scholarly journals, book reviews for scholarly journals, and conference papers. The Graduate Faculty Committee will base its recommendation on a review of both the quality and quantity of the individual's scholarly activity over the preceding seven years. While the committee shall take into account all forms of scholarly activity, published, refereed
work of independent synthesis in book or article form shall receive primary consideration for recommendation as Member of the Graduate Faculty or for renewal of that status.

Faculty may appeal decisions of the Graduate Faculty Committee and of the Dean of the Graduate College regarding graduate faculty status according to the procedures described in the Charter of the Graduate Faculty (Article IV, sect. 1b). If the Graduate Faculty Committee decides to recommend a reduction in an individual's status in the Graduate Faculty, that individual shall have one probationary year and the Committee shall reconsider the individual's record at the end of the year before the decision can take effect (See Charter, Article IV, sect. 3b).

Qualifications for Directing Dissertations.

Professors of history, associate professors, and individuals appointed to the faculty as advanced assistant professors who are recommended by the Graduate Faculty Committee for the status of Member of the Graduate Faculty may also be recommended to direct or co-direct dissertations. Assistant professors of history appointed at the entry level with recently completed doctorates shall be considered by the Graduate Faculty Committee for eligibility to direct or co-direct dissertations at the end of two years as a member of the Department. The Committee shall recommend such assistant professors for eligibility to direct dissertations if their performance by that time demonstrates significant scholarly activity including at least one refereed scholarly article or book accepted for publication as well as conference papers, reviews, or scholarly editions.
Criteria and procedures for appointment to the Graduate Faculty
Department of History

Graduate Faculty Committee

Two members of Committee A (to include the Chair) and the Chair of the Graduate Studies Committee shall constitute the Graduate Faculty Committee. The Graduate Faculty Committee shall review the qualifications of faculty for membership on the Graduate Faculty and make recommendations for appointment to the Dean of the Graduate College and to the Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences.

Qualifications and duties of members of the Graduate Faculty

As defined in the Charter of the Graduate Faculty (Article IV, Section 2), the status of "Member" entitles faculty to teach graduate-level courses, to serve on Master's committees, and to direct Master's theses. Members of the Graduate Faculty with the doctorate may serve on doctoral committees. Appointment as member of the Graduate Faculty extends over seven years. That status shall be reviewed by the Graduate Faculty Committee for renewal or change of status toward the close of the seven-year period, or sooner if the faculty member requests.

Each member of the Department of History faculty who is already a member of the Graduate Faculty shall automatically be recommended for reappointment to the Graduate Faculty for one academic year following approval of this document. Thereafter all tenured faculty shall be evaluated per Article IV, Section 3, for the seven-year period, and according to the departmental criteria defined below.

All current untenured assistant professors and all future entry-level assistant professors with a recently completed Ph.D. degree and one year of satisfactory service shall be recommended automatically for appointment to the graduate faculty for a term of seven years. If need arises, a beginning assistant professor may be appointed to the Graduate Faculty during the first year of service as a Special Member. Faculty appointed at the rank of advanced assistant professor or higher shall be judged according to the criteria of scholarly performance described subsequently.

To be recommended for membership on the Graduate Faculty or for renewal of that status, professors, associate professors, and advanced assistant professors must demonstrate continuing original scholarly activity over the preceding seven-year period including published works of independent synthesis in book or article form, scholarly editions, review articles for scholarly journals, book reviews for scholarly journals, and conference papers. The Graduate Faculty Committee shall base its recommendation on a review of both the quality and quantity of the individual's scholarly activity over the preceding seven years. While the committee shall take into account all forms of scholarly activity, published, refereed work of independent synthesis in book or article form shall receive primary consideration for recommendation as Member of the Graduate Faculty or for renewal of that status.

Faculty may appeal decisions of the Graduate Faculty Committee and of the Dean of the Graduate College regarding graduate faculty status according to the procedures described in the Charter of the Graduate Faculty (Article IV, sect. 1b). If the Graduate Faculty Committee decides to recommend a reduction in an individual's status in the Graduate Faculty, that individual shall have one probationary year and the Committee shall reconsider the individual's record at the end of the year before the decision can take effect (See Charter, Article IV, sect. 3b).

Qualifications for Directing Dissertations

Professors of history, associate professors, and individuals appointed to the faculty as advanced assistant professors who are recommended by the Graduate Faculty Committee for the status of Member of the Graduate Faculty may also be recommended to direct or co-direct dissertations. Assistant professors of history appointed at the entry level with recently completed doctorates shall be considered by the Graduate Faculty Committee for eligibility to direct or co-direct dissertations at the end of two years of service in the Department. The Committee shall recommend such assistant professors for eligibility to direct dissertations if their performance by that time demonstrates significant scholarly activity including at least one refereed scholarly article or book accepted for publication as well as conference papers, reviews, or scholarly editions.
Faculty may appeal the decisions of the Graduate Faculty Committee and of the Graduate Dean regarding direction of dissertations or request reconsideration of their status according to the provisions of the Charter of the Graduate Faculty (Article IV, sect. 1b and sect. 3b).

Procedures for Naming Special Members of the Graduate Faculty
Members of the faculty of the Department of History who are not Members of the Graduate Faculty may be accorded the status of Special Member of the Graduate Faculty for a period of one year when special need arises to offer a particular graduate course or to serve on a master's or doctoral committee (See Charter, Article IV, sect. 2b). The Graduate Faculty Committee shall establish criteria and make recommendations to the Graduate Dean as appropriate to each case.
February 7, 1985

TO: Kenneth L. Hoving, Dean
   Graduate College

FROM: Morris L. Marx, Interim Dean
      College of Arts and Sciences

I find the attached criteria for membership on the graduate faculty and for directing dissertations to be appropriate. The Chemistry statement is somewhat terse, but I doubt it will cause any problems.

MLM:sjl

When returned from the dean's, chemistry not attached.