Graduate Human Relations faculty are required to hold a doctorate or a terminal master's degree. The "normal term" of appointment will be four years for MO, M1, and M2 faculty, and two years for Special Members.

Degree Requirements

MO Faculty are adjuncts who have earned a doctorate or a terminal master's degree. They also must have at least two years of teaching and/or job experiences in a career field related to a discipline relevant to human relations, such as social work, sociology, psychology, communication, education, business, or public administration.

M1 Faculty are adjuncts who have earned a doctorate or a terminal master's degree and have at least four years of teaching and/or job experiences in a career field relevant to human relations.

M2 Faculty are full-time tenure track faculty in the Department of Human Relations.

Special Members are adjuncts who hold an earned master's degree in an academic discipline relevant to human relations but they do not have the teaching and/or job experiences required for MO faculty.

Revised: November 14, 1996