IEG Seminar Series on Tuesday and Wednesday (January 9 and 10, 2016)

Three IEG seminars have been scheduled at 9:30 am – 12:00 noon, Tuesday (January 9, 2016), and at 10:00 am, Wednesday (January 10, 2016). The three speakers are: (i) Dr. James R. Cole, a distinguished bioinformatician and the Director of Ribosomal Database Project (RDP) at the Center for Microbial Ecology, Michigan State University; (ii) Dr. Ryan Penton, an Assistant Professor of microbial ecology at Arizona State University; and (iii) Dr. Yunfeng Yang, a Professor of School of Environment at Tsinghua University with research interests focused on the interplay between soil microbial communities and environments in climate-sensitive regions.

Tuesday (9:30 am – 12:00 noon, January 9, 2016)

Challenges in Microbiome Analysis (James R. Cole)

Disease Suppression in Australian Cropping Soils and Temporal and Management Drivers of Microbial Community Heterogeneity across Spatial Scales (Dr. Ryan Penton)

Place: The Boardroom, Stephenson Research and Technology Center, 101 David L. Boren Blvd.

Wednesday (10:00 am, January 10, 2016)

Metagenomic Evidence Revealing the Interplay between Soil Microbial Communities and Global Change (Dr. Yunfeng Yang)

Place: The Core, Stephenson Research and Technology Center, 101 David L. Boren Blvd.
