Advanced Programs – Course syllabus

Course Title:
Seminar: War, Peace, and Media

Course Number:
COMM 6970-106

Course Description:
This course is an introduction to media coverage of war from a political and mass communication perspective. Students will be introduced to several major theories of mass and political communication that have been applied to the study of war coverage in the media as well as a number of research studies from the communication discipline. Topics will include media bias, embedded reporting, information control, and media agenda setting as they apply to war coverage. The course will examine traditional media coverage of war (such as television, radio, and newspapers) as well as the role of new communication technologies (such as blogs, Internet news websites, and media convergence).

Course Objectives:

The objectives of this class include developing a greater understanding of theories and research in the area of media coverage of war. In an effort to meet these objectives, the following assignments have been created.

Assignments, Grading and Due Dates:

Readings and Participation (20% of grade).

Students will be expected to have read the assigned readings prior to the first class session. As a graduate seminar, I expect students to be actively involved in class discussions.

Research Paper (80% of grade).

Students will evaluate two communication journal articles that focus on media coverage of war. Students may choose any two communication journal articles that deal with media coverage of war depending upon their specific interests. Each article should be evaluated in terms of its theoretical and methodological strengths and limitations. The paper should be written in APA 5th edition style, and it should be no longer than 15 pages. Due Date: 2 weeks after the last class meeting – December 4, 2016.

Grading:

This is a letter-graded course: A, B, C, D, or F.

Notice: Failure to meet assignment due dates could result in a grade of I (Incomplete) and may adversely impact Tuition Assistance and/or Financial Aid.
POLICIES AND NOTICES

Attendance/Grade Policy

Attendance and participation in interaction, individual assignments, group exercises, simulations, role playing, etc. are valuable aspects of any course because much of the learning comes from discussions in class with other students. It is expected that you attend all classes and be on time except for excused emergencies.

Excused absences are given for professor mandated activities or legally required activities such as emergencies or military assignments. It is the policy of the University to excuse absences of students that result from religious observances and to provide without penalty for the rescheduling of examinations and additional required class work that may fall on religious holidays. Unavoidable personal emergencies, including (but not limited to) serious illness; delays in getting to class because of accidents, etc.; deaths and funerals, and hazardous road conditions will be excused.

If you are obtaining financial assistance (TA, STAP, FA, VA, Scholarship, etc.) to pay all or part of your tuition cost, you must follow your funding agency/institution’s policy regarding “I” (Incomplete) grades unless the timeline is longer than what the University policy allows then you must adhere to the University policy. Students who receive Financial Aid must resolve/complete any “I” (Incomplete) grades by the end of the term or he/she may be placed on “financial aid probation.” If the “I” grade is not resolved/completed by the end of the following term, the student’s Financial Aid may be suspended make the student ineligible for further Financial Aid.

Students are responsible for meeting the guidelines of Tuition Assistance and Veterans Assistance. See the education counselor at your local education center for a complete description of your TA or VA requirements.

Academic Integrity and Student Conduct

Academic integrity means honesty and responsibility in scholarship. Academic assignments exist to help students learn; grades exist to show how fully this goal is attained. Therefore all work and all grades should result from the student's own understanding and effort.

Academic misconduct is any act which improperly affects the evaluation of a student’s academic performance or achievement. Misconduct occurs when the student either knows or reasonably should know that the act constitutes misconduct. Academic misconduct includes: cheating and using unauthorized materials on examinations and other assignments; improper collaboration, submitting the same assignment for different classes (self-plagiarism); fabrication, forgery, alteration of documents, lying, etc…in order to obtain an academic advantage; assisting others in academic misconduct; attempting to commit academic misconduct; destruction of property, hacking, etc…; intimidation and interference with integrity process; and plagiarism. All students should review the Student’s Guide to Academic Integrity at http://integrity.ou.edu/students_guide.html

Students and faculty each have responsibility for maintaining an appropriate learning environment. All students should review policies regarding student conduct at http://studentconduct.ou.edu/
