Course Title:
Special Topics/Seminar: The Role of Gender in Warfare

Course Number:
HR 5970-429

Course Description:
Notions of “male” and “female” are essential during times of war. Not only does gender determine who fights in wars, and why, but it is also an integral aspect of how wars are fought. Over the course of the semester, you will read a selection of texts that discuss and illustrate the ways in which gender is significant during times of war. This will include an examination of the roles of combatants and civilians as well as questions of public policy as these relate to warfare and issues surrounding post-war reconstruction. We will examine these questions within an international framework that encompasses both current and past wars.

Course Dates:
March 1 - April 30, 2017
Last day to enroll or drop without penalty: March 1, 2017

Online Orientation:
The College of Arts and Sciences offers an online orientation for students who are enrolled in online or blended courses. The purpose of the orientation is to ensure that students are well prepared both technically and practically to take online courses. The orientation can be found on their website at:

http://www.ou.edu/content/cas/online/student-online-orientation.html

The College of Arts and Sciences Online and Academic Technology Services office is here to assist you with any questions, problems, or concerns you may have. For assistance visit their website at http://www.ou.edu/content/cas/online/student-information.html or contact them by telephone at: (405) 325-5854 or email: casonline@ou.edu

Course Objectives:

• Understand the definition of “gender”
• Develop an overarching understanding of the multiple ways in which gender is significant during times of war
• Examine specific ways in which gender matters (e.g., distinctions between civilians and combatants, international law, etc.)
• Develop the capacity to critically evaluate the ways in which gender plays out during war

Assignments, Grading, and Due Dates:
You will be expected to complete three written assignments. All assignments will be due by April 30, 2017 5PM (CST). If at all possible, assignments should be placed in the relevant dropbox on D2L. Hard copies of the assignments will also be accepted by the due date.

Assignment 1:
Read Sites of Violence. This book provides an analysis of some of the ways in which gender is significant during war. First, provide a brief summary of the main points each chapter. Next, provide your perspective on the material presented in this book. Provide your analysis of the significance of gender during war. What did you learn from reading the book? How does what you read compare to other material you have read as well as your personal experiences? What is your perspective on the authors’ ideas?

Assignment 2:
Read Victims, Perpetrators or Actors. This book provides an additional analysis of gender and warfare in the international arena. First, provide a brief summary of the main points in each chapter. Next, select the chapter that you found most interesting/most enjoyed. Provide a more in-depth discussion of this chapter, including an outline of what it was about the chapter that you found interesting and why. Provide your perspective on the chapter as well as an analysis of how what you read compares to other material you have read and your own personal experiences.

Assignment 3:
Select an additional textbook on a topic that is most interest to you. (1) War, international law, and gender (2) The definition and treatment of civilians and combatants (3) The experience of women during particular wars (4) The aftermath of war, 5) Gender in the US military. First, provide an overview of your chosen text, including your reasons for selecting the book and your overall perspective on the presented material. In addition, provide a discussion of how gender is significant in the book you chose (i.e., how do notions of “male” and “female” play out, and how were these significant to the experience of men and women). Finally, use what you learned from the required texts in order to supplement your analysis of the material in your chosen text.

Document preparation:
All papers should be typed, double-spaced, and should use conventional margins and formatting. Headings should be used to organize your material and to ensure that you fully complete all parts of the assignment. Use either Word (.doc) or Rich Text Format (.rtf) to complete your papers. A “references” page should be included, and all citations should be completed in APA (American Psychological Association) format. Any sources, including outside sources should be appropriately and accurately referenced. While a minimum page limit has not been set, I would suggest that you consider approximately three to five pages the minimum for your first and second assignments and five pages the minimum for your third assignment. This is merely a guide, as quality is ultimately more important than quantity. Please do not hesitate to contact me if you have any questions or concerns.

Grading:
This course is graded Satisfactory or Unsatisfactory (S/U). A grade of S is equivalent to B or better.

Notice: Failure to meet assignment due dates could result in a grade of I (Incomplete) and may adversely impact Tuition Assistance and/or Financial Aid.

Incomplete Grade Policy:
A grade of “I” is not automatically assigned, but rather must be requested by the student by submitting to the instructor a “Petition for and Work to Remove an Incompleted Grade” form. An “I” can never be used in lieu of an “F” nor can an “I” be assigned because of excessive failure to participate in class activities.

Technical Support Information:
If you experience technical problems, contact Information Technology by visiting their website at: http://webapps.ou.edu/it/ or contacting them by telephone at: (405) 325-HELP (4357).
POLICIES AND NOTICES

Attendance/Grade Policy

Note: Attendance/absences do not apply to online courses. However, participation in all course activities is extremely important to student success in online courses.

Excused absences are given for professor mandated activities or legally required activities such as emergencies or military assignments. It is the policy of the University to excuse absences of students that result from religious observances and to provide without penalty for the rescheduling of examinations and additional required class work that may fall on religious holidays. Unavoidable personal emergencies, including (but not limited to) serious illness; delays in getting to class because of accidents, etc.; deaths and funerals, and hazardous road conditions will be excused.

If you are obtaining financial assistance (TA, STAP, FA, VA, Scholarship, etc.) to pay all or part of your tuition cost, you must follow your funding agency/institution’s policy regarding “I” (Incomplete) grades unless the timeline is longer than what the University policy allows then you must adhere to the University policy. Students who receive Financial Aid must resolve/complete any “I” (Incomplete) grades by the end of the term or he/she may be placed on “financial aid probation.” If the “I” grade is not resolved/completed by the end of the following term, the student’s Financial Aid may be suspended make the student ineligible for further Financial Aid.

Students are responsible for meeting the guidelines of Tuition Assistance and Veterans Assistance. See the education counselor at your local education center for a complete description of your TA or VA requirements.

Academic Integrity and Student Conduct

Academic integrity means honesty and responsibility in scholarship. Academic assignments exist to help students learn; grades exist to show how fully this goal is attained. Therefore all work and all grades should result from the student's own understanding and effort.

Academic misconduct is any act which improperly affects the evaluation of a student’s academic performance or achievement. Misconduct occurs when the student either knows or reasonably should know that the act constitutes misconduct. Academic misconduct includes: cheating and using unauthorized materials on examinations and other assignments; improper collaboration, submitting the same assignment for different classes (self-plagiarism); fabrication, forgery, alteration of documents, lying, etc…in order to obtain an academic advantage; assisting others in academic misconduct; attempting to commit academic misconduct; destruction of property, hacking, etc…; intimidation and interference with integrity process; and plagiarism. All students should review the Student’s Guide to Academic Integrity at http://integrity.ou.edu/students_guide.html

Students and faculty each have responsibility for maintaining an appropriate learning environment. All students should review policies regarding student conduct at http://studentconduct.ou.edu/

Accommodation Statement

The University of Oklahoma is committed to making its activities as accessible as possible. For accommodations on the basis of disability, please contact your local OU Site Director.

Adjustment for Pregnancy/Childbirth-Related Issues

Should you need modifications or adjustments to your course requirements because of documented pregnancy-related or childbirth-related issues, please contact me as soon as possible to discuss. Generally, modifications will be made where medically necessary and similar in scope to accommodations based on temporary disability. Please see http://www.ou.edu/content/eoo/faqs/pregnancy-faqs.html.
