The LRGCC Advisory Committee encourages original papers that have not been previously published. If your paper was published but you feel the topic is important enough to be considered by the Committee, please make a note of where and when the paper has been previously published at the bottom of your abstract submission. We ask that interested individuals and organizations submit a 500-word abstract and complete the information below.

Abstracts received by June 10, 2016, will be reviewed for consideration June 14, 2016. At that time a Sponsor will be assigned to each abstract and will contact the author with feedback.

Selection and determination of abstracts for the 2017 LRGCC will be made September 12, 2016. Authors will be notified by their Sponsor by September 19th on the outcome of the selection process.

The 2017 Laurance Reid Gas Conditioning Conference will be held February 26 – March 1, 2017 at the National Center for Employee Development in Norman, OK.

Abstract Submitter Name: ___________________________ Email: _________________________

Company: __________________________________________________________________________

Contact for Sponsor to discuss technical questions, scope, and content:

Name: _____________________________

Phone: _____________________________ Alternate Phone: _____________________________

Email: _____________________________

Author (1): ___________________________ Author (2): _____________________________

Author (3): ___________________________ Author (4): _____________________________

Proposed Title for the Paper: _____________________________

Should the abstract be selected for the conference program, please list the speaker name and contact information:

Speaker Name: _____________________________

Phone: _____________________________ Alternate Phone: _____________________________

Email: _____________________________

25-Word description for conference program: __________________________________________________________________________

__________________________________________________________________________________
500-Word Abstract

_____________________________________________________________________________________

_____________________________________________________________________________________

_____________________________________________________________________________________

_____________________________________________________________________________________

_____________________________________________________________________________________

When evaluating abstracts and developing the conference program, the Advisory Committee gives preference to papers:

- presenting actual operating data
- describing actual operating experience
- describing innovative – and implemented – solutions to widespread problems
- presenting actual capital and/or operating cost information
- not previously presented in a public forum
- with minimal commercial content

Speaker, Author, and Poster Guidelines can be found at LRGCC.ORG. You will then select Laurance Reid Gas Conditioning Conference and then Guidelines. Selected abstracts will need to complete a License To Publish LRGCC Technical Papers form. This can be found with the Guidelines.

Thank you for your abstract submittal for consideration for the 67th Laurance Reid Gas Conditioning Conference. Please feel welcome to contact Tamara Powell at 405.325.3891 or tsutteer@ou.edu with any questions.