Course Objectives:

Upon completion of the course, students should have a working knowledge of a variety of probability density functions including binomial and the normal. They will have developed the ability to create confidence intervals for estimating the mean and proportion of an unknown population distribution. Students will be able to formulate hypotheses concerning the mean and differences in variances. Students will understand the theory underlying linear regression techniques and be able to interpret the results of a linear regression analysis.

Course Outline:

- I. Basic Probability and Probability Distribution, Chapters 1-6
- II. Point and Interval Estimation, Chapters 7-8
- III. Hypothesis Testing, Chapter 9
- IV. More Hypothesis Testing, Chapter 9, continued
- V. Even More Hypothesis Testing, Chapter 9, still continued
- VI. Simple and Multiple Regression and Correlation, Chapters 12, 13, and 17

Assignments, Grading and Due Dates:

Prior to 1st Session: Non graded problem set (on OU electronic reserve)

Last class session: Final Examination

Post Seminar Assignment: For more intensive study, students may select one or two topics from the following fields: Probability Theory, Sampling, Econometric Method, and Business Forecasting. Readings will be assigned to students based on their previous educational background. Topics and due date will be announced during the seminar itself. Written reports will be mailed to the professor at the address on page one of this syllabus.

POLICIES AND NOTICES

Attendance/Grade Policy

Attendance and participation in interaction, individual assignments, group exercises, simulations, role playing, etc. are valuable aspects of any course because much of the learning comes from discussions in class with other students. It is expected that you attend all classes and be on time except for excused emergencies.

Excused absences are given for professor mandated activities or legally required activities such as emergencies or military assignments. Unavoidable personal emergencies, including (but not limited to) serious illness; delays in getting to class because of accidents, etc.; deaths and funerals, and hazardous road conditions will be excused.

If you are obtaining financial assistance (TA, STAP, FA, VA, Scholarship, etc.) to pay all or part of your tuition cost, you must follow your funding agency/institution’s policy regarding “I” (Incomplete) grades unless the timeline is longer than what the University policy allows then you must adhere to the University policy.

Students who receive Financial Aid must resolve/complete any “I” (Incomplete) grades by the end of the term or he/she may be placed on “financial aid probation.” If the “I” grade is not resolved/completed by the end of the following term, the student’s Financial Aid may be suspended make the student ineligible for further Financial Aid.

Students are responsible for meeting the guidelines of Tuition Assistance and Veterans Assistance. See the education counselor at your local education center for a complete description of your TA or VA requirements.

Academic Honesty

Honesty is a fundamental precept in all academic activities and … [you] have a special obligation to observe the highest standards of honesty. Academic misconduct in any form is inimical to the purposes and functions of the University and is therefore unacceptable and is rigorously proscribed. Academic misconduct includes:

- cheating (using unauthorized materials, information, or study aids in any academic exercise), plagiarism, falsification of records, unauthorized possession of examinations, intimidation, and any and all other actions that may improperly affect the evaluation of a student’s academic performance or achievement;
- assisting others in any such act; or attempting to engage in such acts.

All acts of academic misconduct will be reported and adjudicated as prescribed by the student code of the University of Oklahoma. All students should review the “Student’s Guide to Academic Integrity” found at http://www.ou.edu/provost/integrity

Accommodation Statement

The College of Continuing Education [Advanced Programs] is committed to making its activities as accessible as possible. For accommodations on the basis of disability, please contact your OU Site Director.

Course Policies

Advanced Programs policy is to order books in paperback if available. Courses, dates, and professors are subject to change. Please check with your OU Site Director. Students should retain a copy of any assignments that are mailed to the professor for the course.
