Course Title:
Topics in International Studies: Western Hemispheric Security – An American Dilemma

Course Number:
IAS 5940-107

Course Description:
The world has changed tremendously since the end of the Cold War in many respects, security being chief among them. The relative global stability that the Cold War brought to the West has evolved over the past 20 years to become an inherently unstable and volatile one. The Western Hemisphere, traditionally comprised of Western Europe, North America and certain Pacific allies, has seen traditional threats to security change in nature and increase in complexity. The threat of the Soviet nuclear missile has been effectively replaced by a long list of smaller security problems, which are proving a significant challenge to counter. How has America chosen to manage security in the Western Hemisphere amidst all this change? The resulting dilemma for America is whether “to go it alone” or engage a myriad of international partners to ensure global stability – something that ultimately affects life at home.

Grading:

This is a letter-graded course: A, B, C, D, or F.

Attendance Policy:

In addition to interaction via Desire2Learn and E-mail contact, students are required to log in to the course D2L website and follow the posted instructions BEFORE the beginning of the course. Participation in all interactive, learning activities is required.

Incomplete Grade Policy:

A grade of “I” is not automatically assigned, but rather must be requested by the student by submitting to the instructor a “Petition for and Work to Remove an Incompleted Grade” form. An “I” can never be used in lieu of an “F” nor can an “I” be assigned because of excessive failure to participate in class activities.

Notice: Failure to meet assignment due dates could result in a grade of I (Incomplete) and may adversely impact Tuition Assistance and/or Financial Aid.
Policies and Notices

Attendance/Grade Policy

Attendance and participation in interaction, individual assignments, group exercises, simulations, role playing, etc. are valuable aspects of any course because much of the learning comes from discussions in class with other students. It is expected that you attend all classes and be on time except for excused emergencies.

Excused absences are given for professor mandated activities or legally required activities such as emergencies or military assignments. Unavoidable personal emergencies, including (but not limited to) serious illness; delays in getting to class because of accidents, etc.; deaths and funerals, and hazardous road conditions will be excused.

If you are obtaining financial assistance (TA, STAP, FA, VA, Scholarship, etc.) to pay all or part of your tuition cost, you must follow your funding agency/institution’s policy regarding “I” (Incomplete) grades unless the timeline is longer than what the University policy allows then you must adhere to the University policy.

Students who receive Financial Aid must resolve/complete any “I” (Incomplete) grades by the end of the term or he/she may be placed on “financial aid probation.” If the “I” grade is not resolved/completed by the end of the following term, the student’s Financial Aid may be suspended make the student ineligible for further Financial Aid.

Students are responsible for meeting the guidelines of Tuition Assistance and Veterans Assistance. See the education counselor at your local education center for a complete description of your TA or VA requirements.

Academic Honesty

Honesty is a fundamental precept in all academic activities and … [you] have a special obligation to observe the highest standards of honesty. Academic misconduct in any form is inimical to the purposes and functions of the University and is therefore unacceptable and is rigorously proscribed. Academic misconduct includes:

- cheating (using unauthorized materials, information, or study aids in any academic exercise), plagiarism, falsification of records, unauthorized possession of examinations, intimidation, and any and all other actions that may improperly affect the evaluation of a student’s academic performance or achievement; assisting others in any such act; or attempting to engage in such acts.

All acts of academic misconduct will be reported and adjudicated as prescribed by the student code of the University of Oklahoma. All students should review the “Student’s Guide to Academic Integrity” found at http://www.ou.edu/provost/integrity.
