Course Title: Research in Human Relations

Course Number: HR 5023-490

Course Description: During this course, we will attempt to survey the topic of research and its role in the social sciences. Many times in research involving human subjects, exact answers cannot be obtained and the researcher must draw conclusions by inference; thus, the use of statistical analysis becomes extremely important. The quantitative portion of this course will be an introduction to elementary statistics such as central tendencies, standard deviation, variance, correlation coefficients, regression analysis, z scores, student t tests, Chi square, One Way ANOVA, hypothesis testing to include among other tests the testing of the difference in population means and population proportions, and developing confidence intervals for estimating population means and proportions. Although much calculating will be involved, the primary thrust will be, hopefully, toward the understanding of the use of the statistical values obtained and their meanings in research endeavors. Before beginning the discussion on statistics, the basic research methods used in behavioral research will be discussed. These methods will include, but not be limited to, historical, survey, observation, questionnaire, simulation, content analysis and experimental approaches to Human Relations.

Course Dates: January 2-April 30, 2014
Last day to enroll or drop without penalty: December 4, 2013

Course goals or overview:

The goals of this course are for students to develop an understanding of research methodologies and the research protocols used when humans are the subjects of research as well as developing an understanding of the use and power of statistics as a tool in research.
Course Objectives:
When a student completes this course, the student should:

1. understand the importance of research and its contribution to the field of Human Relations in particular and society in general;
2. develop an understanding of the various research methods and an appreciation of how some of them might be used in the area of Human Relations;
3. attain an appreciation of elementary statistical methods;
4. begin to use these statistical methods without anxiety and with a degree of confidence; and
5. have developed more sensitivity toward the ethical considerations in research.

Course Format:
This is an online course that uses Desire2Learn (D2L) as the delivery agent. Students have the opportunity to and indeed are encouraged to interact with each other and the instructor on all homework assignments. This interaction occurs via the discussion section in D2L. All assignments and the examination are posted electronically in the appropriate D2L dropbox. Students then receive feedback on each assignment electronically through D2L.

Assignments, Grading, and Due Dates:
This course will be divided into two distinct sections:

1. how to design research endeavors that use humans as subjects; and
2. how to treat/analyze the data obtained from the research endeavor.

Grading:
This is a letter-graded course: A, B, C, D, or F. The course will not be curved. In order to earn an A the student must earn at least 90% or 540 points, etc.

Notice: Failure to meet assignment due dates could result in a grade of I (Incomplete) or F and may adversely impact Tuition Assistance and/or Financial Aid.

Policy for Late Work:
With the exception of one homework assignment late posting of assignments will not be graded and, thus, will earn a grade of zero (0).
Attendance Policy:
Student assignments and student/instructor communications will be conducted via Desire2Learn, although students may contact the instructor via telephone, postal mail, or e-mail, as needed.

Incomplete Grade Policy:
A grade of “I” is not automatically assigned, but rather must be requested by the student by submitting to the instructor a “Petition for and Work to Remove an Incompleted Grade” form. An “I” can never be used in lieu of an “F” nor can an “I” be assigned because of excessive failure to participate in class activities.

Technical Support Information:
If you experience technical problems, contact Information Technology by visiting their website at: http://webapps.ou.edu/it/ or contacting them by telephone at: (405) 325-HELP (4357).

Procedures for Completion of Course Evaluation:
Upon completion of the course students should go to the Advanced Programs Distance Learning webpage and click on the applicable semester link under “Course Evaluations” which will direct them to the evaluation. The evaluation will take approximately five minutes to complete. Completion of the online evaluation is an important tool allowing Advanced Programs to gain information and student feedback for improvement of courses.

Your responses will be kept confidential. They will be reviewed by the department and only supplied to the professor once grades for the course have been submitted.

Important information you should know about online courses:
- To sign on to Desire2Learn (D2L), log in using your 4+4 and your OU network password (note that this is the same 4+4 and password that you use to access your OU email). Once you are logged in, please look for “My Courses,” locate your course and click on it. Remember to check your course site on D2L every day.
- Students enrolled in online courses may be required to take the CAS student orientation in Desire 2 Learn. To take the orientation, sign-on to D2L and then click on “Self Registration” at the top left corner of the page. Information about and instructions for the orientation can be found at http://casweb.ou.edu/olr/public/students/orientation.htm
POLICIES AND NOTICES

Attendance/Grade Policy

Note: Attendance/absences do not apply to online courses. However, participation in all course activities is extremely important to student success in online courses.

Excused absences are given for professor mandated activities or legally required activities such as emergencies or military assignments. It is the policy of the University to excuse absences of students that result from religious observances and to provide without penalty for the rescheduling of examinations and additional required class work that may fall on religious holidays. Unavoidable personal emergencies, including (but not limited to) serious illness; delays in getting to class because of accidents, etc.; deaths and funerals, and hazardous road conditions will be excused.

If you are obtaining financial assistance (TA, STAP, FA, VA, Scholarship, etc.) to pay all or part of your tuition cost, you must follow your funding agency/institution’s policy regarding “I” (Incomplete) grades unless the timeline is longer than what the University policy allows then you must adhere to the University policy. Students who receive Financial Aid must resolve/complete any “I” (Incomplete) grades by the end of the term or he/she may be placed on “financial aid probation.” If the “I” grade is not resolved/completed by the end of the following term, the student’s Financial Aid may be suspended make the student ineligible for further Financial Aid.

Students are responsible for meeting the guidelines of Tuition Assistance and Veterans Assistance. See the education counselor at your local education center for a complete description of your TA or VA requirements.

Academic Honesty

Honesty is a fundamental precept in all academic activities and … [you] have a special obligation to observe the highest standards of honesty. Academic misconduct in any form is inimical to the purposes and functions of the University and is therefore unacceptable and is rigorously proscribed. Academic misconduct includes:

- cheating (using unauthorized materials, information, or study aids in any academic exercise), plagiarism, falsification of records, unauthorized possession of examinations, intimidation, and any and all other actions that may improperly affect the evaluation of a student’s academic performance or achievement;
- assisting others in any such act; or attempting to engage in such acts.

All acts of academic misconduct will be reported and adjudicated as prescribed by the student code of the University of Oklahoma. All students should review the Student’s Guide to Academic Integrity

Accommodation Statement

The University of Oklahoma is committed to making its activities as accessible as possible. For accommodations on the basis of disability, please contact your local OU Site Director.

Course Policies

Advanced Programs policy is to order books in paperback if available. Courses, dates, and professors are subject to change. Please check with your OU Site Director. Students should retain a copy of any assignments that are mailed to the professor for the course.
