Course Title:
Child Abuse and Neglect

Course Number:
HR 5113-120

Course Description:
There is clear empirical evidence that maltreatment early in a child’s life can have major deleterious effects on the child’s social development, ability to form trusting and secure relationships with others, and on intellectual functioning. Child abuse and neglect, including child sexual abuse (and other forms of domestic violence) has reached such a level that the Centers for Disease Control view it as a public health crisis. This course will provide an overview of the types of child abuse/neglect, its impact on development, possible causes of maltreatment, and ways of preventing maltreatment. Additional forms of maltreatment such as intimate partner violence and its impact on children and families will also be discussed. An introduction to evidenced based practice (EBP) for those working with families exposed to domestic violence will be included. The instructor will also include in her lecture information an introduction to EBP for children exposed to trauma.

Course Objectives:

This course is designed to help the student:

- learn the latest research on the topic of maltreatment (physical, sexual, emotional abuse, and neglect) and view actual cases of abuse;
- understand the impact of trauma on development (trauma such as abuse, domestic violence, substance abuse and violence within the family);
- understand additional forms of maltreatment (intimate partner violence, community violence, bullying, other peer violence) and its relationship to children.
- learn about ways to prevent child abuse and neglect, and learn what you can do as a therapist/counselor to help those who have experienced trauma;
- Learn about evidenced based practice (or empirically supported treatments (EST).
- learn about positive parenting to enhance one’s own skills both as a parent and as a therapist to others; and
- understand the relationship among childhood maltreatment, PTSD, and health.

Assignments, Grading and Due Dates:

Pre-class assignments are due the first day of class. They are to be typewritten, double-spaced. A 10% deduction will occur if these assignments are late and 20% if they are not turned in by the last day of class.

1. Write a three- to five-page paper that describes local procedures for reporting abuse and local services available to victims of abuse and their families. Describe the reporting procedures step-by-step and then include the services in your community for the child who has been abused. Be very specific in writing this paper. 15% of Grade

2. Write a five to seven page paper on how to prevent abuse at the societal level and in your neighborhood. Include in your paper ways in which culture encourages violence. Be sure to reference your work, especially the Silovsky-Willis article, the class text, and other articles. 20% of grade.

3. Be prepared to discuss the recent research articles listed in the Electronic Reserve System. In addition, review information on the internet titled “Research articles—Corporal Punishment” as well as information listed under “corporal punishment information”. Second, prior to class go to the internet and read about 1) Safecare Home Visiting, 2) trauma-focused-CBT; 3) www.evidence-based practice; 4) Cognitive processing therapy.

4. The final exam will come from selected Discussion Questions located at the end of each chapter and will be an open book exam.

Students will be expected to read the text and assigned readings before beginning the course. Student participation in class discussion is expected.

POLICIES AND NOTICES

Attendance/Grade Policy

Attendance and participation in interaction, individual assignments, group exercises, simulations, role playing, etc. are valuable aspects of any course because much of the learning comes from discussions in class with other students. It is expected that you attend all classes and be on time except for excused emergencies.

Excused absences are given for professor mandated activities or legally required activities such as emergencies or military assignments. It is the policy of the University to excuse absences of students that result from religious observances and to provide without penalty for the rescheduling of examinations and additional required class work that may fall on religious holidays. Unavoidable personal emergencies, including (but not limited to) serious illness; delays in getting to class because of accidents, etc.; deaths and funerals, and hazardous road conditions will be excused.

If you are obtaining financial assistance (TA, STAP, FA, VA, Scholarship, etc.) to pay all or part of your tuition cost, you must follow your funding agency/institution’s policy regarding “I” (Incomplete) grades unless the timeline is longer than what the University policy allows then you must adhere to the University policy. Students who receive Financial Aid must resolve/complete any “I” (Incomplete) grades by the end of the term or he/she may be placed on “financial aid probation.” If the “I” grade is not resolved/completed by the end of the following term, the student’s Financial Aid may be suspended make the student ineligible for further Financial Aid.

Students are responsible for meeting the guidelines of Tuition Assistance and Veterans Assistance. See the education counselor at your local education center for a complete description of your TA or VA requirements.

Academic Honesty

Honesty is a fundamental precept in all academic activities and … [you] have a special obligation to observe the highest standards of honesty. Academic misconduct in any form is inimical to the purposes and functions of the University and is therefore unacceptable and is rigorously proscribed. Academic misconduct includes:

- cheating (using unauthorized materials, information, or study aids in any academic exercise), plagiarism, falsification of records, unauthorized possession of examinations, intimidation, and any and all other actions that may improperly affect the evaluation of a student’s academic performance or achievement; assisting others in any such act; or attempting to engage in such acts.

All acts of academic misconduct will be reported and adjudicated as prescribed by the student code of the University of Oklahoma. All students should review the Student’s Guide to Academic Integrity.
