Course Title:
International Communication

Course Number:
COMM 6323-222

Course Description:
In this course, we will examine the critical role that communication plays in international political and business relations. We will first discuss the conflict-generating role of culture and ideology in communicating across national boundaries. We will then identify specific communication factors that accentuate international conflicts, as well as those factors that help improve management of conflict, cooperation, and peace among peoples.

Course Objectives:

The objective of this class is to introduce the students to literature pertaining to international communication. This involves learning about global telematics, diplomatic issues, information processing and dissemination, international negotiations, and war as a tool of diplomacy, including financial conflict. We will investigate the economic issues around post-industrialism, the cultural issues around post-modernism, and the geopolitical issues around post-colonialism as they impact on international information flows. We will discuss basic software and hardware technologies that form international messages and channels. We will also discuss institutional and organizational entities that enable and require international communication. We will explore different notions of nation and state and the specific properties of communication problems pertaining to these entities, including power differentials, motives, intents, and miscalculations. Finally, issues of national sovereignty in a global information environment will be covered, including an eye to the problematics of international information law and regulation.

Assignments, Grading and Due Dates:

1. This course follows a seminar format in which discussions are the primary class activity. All assigned readings must be completed prior to the first day of class.

2. Your grade will be determined by the following two methods:
   a. Examination: 50% - A comprehensive examination (multiple-choice questions and essay-type questions) will assess your recall and understanding of course materials.
   b. Post Seminar Assignment: 50% - Submit a 15-20 page paper (typed, double-spaced). This paper should apply theoretical concepts from the class to the book One World, Ready or Not. For instance, what are the consequences for international communication of these new networks that are dissolving national boundaries and are used by "common citizens"? Due three weeks after last class session

Grading: This is a letter-graded course: A, B, C, D, or F.

A=91-100, B=81-90, C=71-80, D=61-70, F=60 or less

NOTICE: Failure to meet assignment due dates could result in a grade of I (Incomplete) and may adversely impact Tuition Assistance and/or Financial Aid.
POLICIES AND NOTICES

Attendance/Grade Policy

Attendance and participation in interaction, individual assignments, group exercises, simulations, role playing, etc. are valuable aspects of any course because much of the learning comes from discussions in class with other students. It is expected that you attend all classes and be on time except for excused emergencies.

Excused absences are given for professor mandated activities or legally required activities such as emergencies or military assignments. Unavoidable personal emergencies, including (but not limited to) serious illness; delays in getting to class because of accidents, etc.; deaths and funerals, and hazardous road conditions will be excused.

If you are obtaining financial assistance (TA, STAP, FA, VA, Scholarship, etc.) to pay all or part of your tuition cost, you must follow your funding agency/institution’s policy regarding “I” (Incomplete) grades unless the timeline is longer than what the University policy allows then you must adhere to the University policy.

Students who receive Financial Aid must resolve/complete any “I” (Incomplete) grades by the end of the term or he/she may be placed on “financial aid probation.” If the “I” grade is not resolved/completed by the end of the following term, the student’s Financial Aid may be suspended make the student ineligible for further Financial Aid.

Students are responsible for meeting the guidelines of Tuition Assistance and Veterans Assistance. See the education counselor at your local education center for a complete description of your TA or VA requirements.

Academic Honesty

Honesty is a fundamental precept in all academic activities and … [you] have a special obligation to observe the highest standards of honesty. Academic misconduct in any form is inimical to the purposes and functions of the University and is therefore unacceptable and is rigorously proscribed. Academic misconduct includes:

- cheating (using unauthorized materials, information, or study aids in any academic exercise), plagiarism, falsification of records, unauthorized possession of examinations, intimidation, and any and all other actions that may improperly affect the evaluation of a student’s academic performance or achievement; assisting others in any such act; or attempting to engage in such acts.

All acts of academic misconduct will be reported and adjudicated as prescribed by the student code of the University of Oklahoma. All students should review the “Student’s Guide to Academic Integrity” found at http://www.ou.edu/provost/integrity
