Course Objectives:

The central learning objectives are to understand:

- the underlying values of organization development;
- how Action Research supports those values;
- how “OD practitioners are the principal instrument”;
- the strengths and limits of all techniques;
- the importance of process in organization life;
- how power and politics operate in organizations;
- how change in open systems engenders conflict at every level of analysis; and
- how the methods of OD can assist in coping with change and interpersonal, group, and organization antagonisms.

Course Outline:

1. The Field of Organization Development
2. History of Organization Development
3. Values, Assumptions, and Beliefs in OD
4. Team Interventions
5. Intergroup and Third-Party Peacemaking
6. Managing Change
7. Strategic Planning
8. Culture and Climate
9. Power, Politics, and Development
10. General Process Concerns
11. Quality of Work Life and the Future of OD

Assignments, Grading and Due Dates:

Pre-Class Reading:

Do customary pre-class reading before the class meets. Have some sense of OD, what it is, what it is used for, and how it is participatory, involves employees, and gives workers effective voice; meaning, in the end, it is optimistic about what people can do.

Pre-Seminar Assignment:

A 5-7 page, double-spaced paper due at first class meeting detailing how organizational culture, psychology, risk, support, communication, and readiness, affect organizational change. 50% of grade.

Final exam:

Essay. Take Home. Dates to be discussed in class.

Grading:

This is a letter-graded course: A, B, C, D, or F.

NOTICE: Failure to meet assignment due dates could result in a grade of I (Incomplete) and may adversely impact Tuition Assistance and/or Financial Aid.
POLICIES AND NOTICES

Attendance/Grade Policy

Attendance and participation in interaction, individual assignments, group exercises, simulations, role playing, etc. are valuable aspects of any course because much of the learning comes from discussions in class with other students. It is expected that you attend all classes and be on time except for excused emergencies.

Excused absences are given for professor mandated activities or legally required activities such as emergencies or military assignments. Unavoidable personal emergencies, including (but not limited to) serious illness; delays in getting to class because of accidents, etc.; deaths and funerals, and hazardous road conditions will be excused.

If you are obtaining financial assistance (TA, STAP, FA, VA, Scholarship, etc.) to pay all or part of your tuition cost, you must follow your funding agency/institution’s policy regarding “I” (Incomplete) grades unless the timeline is longer than what the University policy allows then you must adhere to the University policy.

Students who receive Financial Aid must resolve/complete any “I” (Incomplete) grades by the end of the term or he/she may be placed on “financial aid probation.” If the “I” grade is not resolved/completed by the end of the following term, the student’s Financial Aid may be suspended make the student ineligible for further Financial Aid.

Students are responsible for meeting the guidelines of Tuition Assistance and Veterans Assistance. See the education counselor at your local education center for a complete description of your TA or VA requirements.

Academic Honesty

Honesty is a fundamental precept in all academic activities and … [you] have a special obligation to observe the highest standards of honesty. Academic misconduct in any form is inimical to the purposes and functions of the University and is therefore unacceptable and is rigorously proscribed. Academic misconduct includes:

cheating (using unauthorized materials, information, or study aids in any academic exercise), plagiarism, falsification of records, unauthorized possession of examinations, intimidation, and any and all other actions that may improperly affect the evaluation of a student’s academic performance or achievement; assisting others in any such act; or attempting to engage in such acts.

All acts of academic misconduct will be reported and adjudicated as prescribed by the student code of the University of Oklahoma. All students should review the “Student’s Guide to Academic Integrity” found at http://www.ou.edu/provost/integrity
