Explanation of Changes to the Constitution

The attached items are changes to the official copy of the UOSA Constitution. They re-insert inexplicably omitted provisions, and account for two changes as a result of amendment. Only two amendments have been passed since the last time the Board of Regents most recently approved the UOSA Constitution on June 27th 2007. These are the redistricting amendment which was approved by the student body on November 11th, 2009, and an amendment that slightly changed the recall and amendment process that was approved by the student body on March 31st 2010. We can only assume that sometime in 2007 an error was made in the official copy of the constitution that somehow caused certain other provisions to be inexplicably lost during or after the last time the Board of Regents reviewed and approved the UOSA Constitution. We have simply re-inserted them using archived text from a copy of the 2005-2006 Student Code Booklet, in which a copy of the UOSA constitution appeared.

Below is a description of the relevant changes:

Article III, Section 7, Subsection 7
We have reinserted language providing for concurring resolutions. This language was never removed by amendment. The following subsections are renumbered accordingly.

Article IV, Section 4, Subsection 5
We have reinserted language providing for the UOSA President’s regular reports to congress. This language was never removed by amendment.

Article IV, Section 8, Subsections 1 and 2
We have reinserted language that outlines the function of the General Counsel. This language was never removed by amendment.

Article V, Section 2
We have reinserted language providing for the jurisdiction of the UOSA Superior Court. This language was never removed by amendment. We also clarified that the Court has jurisdiction over the UOSA Code Annotated, not the Student Code. We renumbered each subsequent section accordingly. The court has exercised jurisdiction between 2007 and 2010 under the assumption that it was intended to have this jurisdiction.

Article XIII, Section 1, Subsections 1 and 3
We fixed clerical numbering errors.

Article III, Section 2, Subsection 2
We made changes reflecting the passage of an amendment passed on November 11th 2009. It adds the Laboratory Technology department to the Life Science District. It adds the Arts and sciences Planned Program to the Humanities District. It renames the International and Area Studies District as the Multi/Interdisciplinary Studies District, and adds the students of the College of Academic Affairs within its district. It clarifies the name of the Weitzenhoffer Family College of Fine Arts, and the Mewbourne College of Earth and Energy.

Article VII, Section 3
We made changes reflecting the passage of an amendment passed on March 31\textsuperscript{st} 2010. It slightly alters the provision for recall of UOSA officials, and alters the method of amending the UOSA Constitution by petitions.
