COURSE DESCRIPTION:

This Level I course challenges workers to examine their sensitivity and responsiveness to the diverse cultures of the populations they serve. Participants will examine the cultural norms, values, codes of conduct, traditions and child rearing practices of various ethnic, cultural, economic, generational and other groups served by DHS. Participants will examine their own culture, traditions, and economic values - recognizing the potential impact upon their own outlook and the decisions they make concerning their clients. We will examine the growing diversity created by four generations currently co-existing in the workplace and will examine the growing diversity created by 'class': generational poverty, middle class, and wealth.
