THE ART OF KISSING is a lively comedy about Arthur, a university freshman who has never, well, been kissed. When the word gets out on the internet, a carnival of confusion and chases begins in this well constructed film that was shot on the OU campus a year ago and is currently being entered in contests around the world.

Ursula Devine completed her MFA in Professional Writing from the OU Gaylord College of Journalism & Mass Communication and Joseph Campo completed his BA in Drama through the OU Drama Department, both in 2008. They are currently living in Los Angeles and working on a variety of film related projects.
