ensuring Chinese Engineering Graduate Students’ Academic Success: A Study at the University of Oklahoma.

Joon Song (2012). Knowledge sharing and institutionalism in the healthcare industry.

Bennett, and Hee (2012). Organizational structure, community of practice, and patient safety.

im, Yong-Mi, Donna Newby-Bennett, and Hee-Joon Song (2012). Knowledge sharing and institutionalism in the healthcare industry.

eferred Book Chapters:

ook Chapters:

ited Book Chapters:

ook Chapters:

resentations, National & International:

ents:

ternal: Taylor (PI); Abbas, Brown, Burke, Martens, and White (CO-PIs); $414,545; IMLS Training Grant “Partnering to Build a 21st Community or Oklahoma Academic Librarians.” 2009-2012; Latrobe (PI); $10,000; OUHS College of Public Health Southwest Center for Public Health preparedness; Abbas (consultant); $2000; IMLS Research Grant “Libraries and the Social Web: Developing the Next Generation of Youth Information Services”. 2011-2013; White (Co-PI); $609,344; IMLS Training Grant “Building the Future of Archival Education and Research, Phase I” 2011-2014. Internal: Abbas, Kim, Koh, Rubenstein, Taylor: OU VPR Faculty Travel Assistance Grants Program; Brown (Co-PI) $100,000: OU PR Challenge Grant “Shaping the Information Future of Dance Research: Joint Challenge Grant.” Proposal from OU’s School of Dance and School of Library and Information Studies; Martens, Taylor, White: OU College of Arts and Sciences Faculty Enrichment Grant; Rubenstein, nead: $70000: Research Council Jr Faculty Research Grant.

ervice:

iversity, College, School: In 2012 the SLIS faculty provided service for the University, College, and the School, with 17 active memberships at the OU/CAS level. All faculty members serve on at least one SLIS committee. Service to the University is provided on the Norman and Tulsa campuses. Discipline: SLIS faculty serve in the roles of president, secretary, and board/task force member; present at conferences, direct SIGs; serve on committees as chairs and members; and engage in advisory boards for these state, national, and international organizations: American Library Association; American Society for Information Science and Technology; Archival Educators Research Institute; Archival Science; Association for Library and Information Science Educators; Association of Internet Researchers; Beta Phi Mu; Digital Government Research; Institute for Museum and Library Services; International Communication Association; International Conference on Knowledge Management; International Council on Archives; Medical Library Association; National Communication Association; American Indian Library Association; national Library of Medicine Southeastern Region; Oklahoma Library Association; Oklahoma Regional Advisory Council South Central Chapter of the Medical Library Association; Society of American Archivists; Southwest/Texas Popular Culture Association; Special Libraries Association.; tribal Archives, Libraries, and Museums. Editorial Boards: Government Information Quarterly; Information, Communities, and Society; Journal of Academic Librarianship; Library and Information Science Research; Library Quarterly; Science and Technology Libraries.