Welcome to the New Face of E.G.O.

As graduate students in the Educational Psychology Department of the College of Education, E.G.O. is your organization. Our aim is to disseminate useful information to students in the department including: funding and scholarship opportunities, events in the department, college and university, student resources and professional organizations.

E.G.O. is evolving. We have a new and improved website and are aiming to provide more information to Graduate Students in the Educational Psychology department than ever before. We are also aiming this semester to provide a quiet space one weekday evening for graduate students in the department to study, relax and work on group projects in the Collings Hall Foyer with tea and coffee provided for a nominal fee. More details to follow soon...

Our goal is to be as useful to you as possible to the Graduate Students in the Ed Psych department. If you have suggestions for how we can improve, or suggestions of what E.G.O. can do for you let one of the officers know via the website or via their email addresses provided below.

Mission Statement

The purposes of the E.G.O. are to collect, organize, and disseminate information to all graduate students in the Department of Educational Psychology regarding department news: (i.e. scholarship, fellowship, assistantship, and research opportunities; and social gatherings).

A further purpose of the group is to serve as a hub for networking and establishing support systems. The group serves as a colloquia from which to learn about the latest theories, ideas, technologies, and practices within the specific areas of Instructional Psychology and Technology, the Counseling Programs, and Special Education.

The group also serves as an agency from which to invite outside or local speakers or relevant subjects. Further, the group fosters understanding, cooperation, and collaboration between the specific areas of focus within Educational Psychology.

New Website

E.G.O. has a new website containing lots of relevant information for students in the Ed Psych department at OU. Find the site at the URL below:
