The Newman Young Writers Award 2015

If you like word games, poetry, or both, try your hand at this year's Newman Young Writers Award, sponsored by the Institute for US-China Issues at the University of Oklahoma. This year three $500 prizes will be awarded to Oklahoma K-12 students (one each for Elementary, Middle, and High school), and one for adults. There is one catch: the winning English poem must follow the rules of Classical Chinese Poetry! The competition only runs for one month so do not delay. To learn more go to ou.edu/uschina/newman/youngwriters.html and submit your poem between now and February 25th. Winners will be invited to OU to receive their award at the Newman Prize for Chinese Literature awards banquet on March 6th at OU.
