WELCOME

Welcome to the Master of Public Administration (MPA) graduate programs at the University of Oklahoma. As a professional program, emphasis is placed on learning the concepts, processes, and techniques associated with understanding and leading organizations in government, the nonprofit sector and public policy. The MPA degree blends the theoretical with the practical dimensions and encourages a broadened scholarly and professional perspective.

Our graduate students are a diverse group. You will find that some are recent college graduates while others are professionals interested in advancing their current career or exploring new career opportunities. As you progress through the program, I encourage all of you to build a great network, learn from the rich diversity in the classroom, actively debate important issues, encourage one another, and create a vibrant learning environment for all.

Master of Public Administration Introduction
Introduced in the 1940’s as the Master of Arts in Public Administration (MAPA) and changed to the Master of Public Administration (MPA) in 1965, the one constant in our program’s history has been embracing changes necessary to maintain a flexible degree program. As professional expectations and environmental conditions inexorably change we consistently meet our students’ needs. The MPA degree program is a graduate program of the Department of Political Science and celebrated its 50th anniversary in 2015.

Mission Statements—Graduate Programs in Public Administration
The mission of OU’s Master of Public Administration program is to equip students with knowledge and skills to adapt to changing public service environments and to work collaboratively to solve problems in the public and nonprofit sectors. We accomplish this mission through:

- offering a robust curriculum in a manner sensitive to the diverse perspectives present in Oklahoma,
- preparing our graduates to provide leadership and analytic skills within their communities,
- generating knowledge relevant to public service based on rigorous research,
- engaging our community in teaching, research and service activities.

Adopted by MPA Core Faculty 12/4/17

The Department of Political Science
The Department of Political Science is the academic home for faculty, staff members, undergraduate students, and graduate students who share a love of politics and a devotion to learning. Faculty and students pursue research and study in topics as varied as American politics, comparative politics, international relations, public policy, public administration, and political theory. The department is an academic unit of the College of Arts and Sciences. Prof. Scott E. Robinson is the chair of the department.
The Department of Political Science Mission Statement

The Mission of the Department of Political Science is to discover and disseminate knowledge about political life, to serve the community and profession, to enhance our students’ skills, and cultivate their interest in politics, government, and civic life.

The University of Oklahoma

Created by the Oklahoma Territorial Legislature in 1890, the University of Oklahoma is a doctoral degree-granting research university serving the educational, cultural, economic and health-care needs of the state, region and nation. The Norman campus serves as home to all of the university’s academic programs except health-related fields. The OU Health Sciences Center, which is located in Oklahoma City, is one of only four comprehensive academic health centers in the nation with seven professional colleges. Both the Norman and Health Sciences Center colleges offer programs at the Schusterman Center, the site of OU-Tulsa. OU enrolls more than 32,000 students, has more than 2,800 full-time faculty members, and has 21 colleges offering 172 majors at the baccalaureate level, 156 majors at the master’s level, 81 majors at the doctoral level, and 54 graduate certificates. The university’s annual operating budget is $2.05 billion. The University of Oklahoma is an equal opportunity institution.¹

The University of Oklahoma Mission Statement:

*The mission of the University of Oklahoma is to provide the best possible educational experience for our students through excellence in teaching, research and creative activity, and service to the state and society.*²

The Graduate College:

The Graduate College is the center of advanced study, research, and creative activity at the university. Graduate instruction has been offered at the University of Oklahoma since 1899, seven years after the university opened its doors. The first master’s degree was conferred in 1900 to C. Ross Hume. The Graduate School was formally organized in 1909, and in 1929, the first doctoral degree was awarded to Dr. Mary Jane Brown. In 1942, the name was changed to the Graduate College.³

The College of Arts and Sciences:

The College of Arts and Sciences is the oldest and largest of the degree-recommending colleges at the University of Oklahoma. Established in 1892 as the College of Liberal Arts, the College granted its first degree in 1898. Today, as then, the liberal arts and sciences provide the foundation for the OU educational experience.⁴

Accreditation:

The University of Oklahoma is an accredited public research university by the Higher Learning Commission of the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools.⁵

SECTION 1: ADMISSION

Admission Requirements
In order to be considered for admission to the graduate program, students must first meet Graduate College admission requirements as described in the Graduate College Bulletin. To seek admission, students must apply directly to the Office of Graduate Admissions by submitting the official online application form, along with official transcripts and application fee of $50.00 ($100.00 international applications).

All applicants for whom English is a second language must present evidence of proficiency in the English language. Students whose native language is not English are required to submit their scores on the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL). The TOEFL institutional code for the University of Oklahoma is 6879. Please consult the Office of Graduate Admissions English Proficiency Requirements for more information. The MPA program requires an Internet-based TOEFL score of 100 and IELTS of 7.0.

In addition, the Department of Political Science requires supplemental materials submitted with your online application, as described below:

- A statement of about 1,000 words articulating the applicant’s specific preparation for graduate study, proposed fields of study and area of focus, and career aspirations. A compelling statement is a critical part of the application; the applicant should invest time in crafting the personal statement.
- Two letters of recommendation from persons in a position to speak knowledgeably about the applicant’s academic ability. Typically, these would be academic references rather than personal acquaintances or employers. When completing the online application, you will have an opportunity to provide the names and email addresses of your recommenders. Upon submission of your application, your recommenders will be sent an email notifying them to submit their letters through an electronic system.
- Current resume.

All supplemental documents may be uploaded with the online application.

Types of Admission
The Admissions Committee recommends two types of admission to the Office of Graduate Admission: full standing or conditional admission.

Full Admission:
The Graduate College defines full admission as, an applicant that has met all University admission requirements, is recommended for full admission by the academic unit, and is accepted for admission by the Graduate College.
Conditional Admission:
Applicants with an undergraduate GPA less than 3.00 may be recommended for admission to the program through conditional admission status. Such students must take only PSC prefixed courses, maintain a GPA of at least 3.00 in the first twelve-eighteen hours of graded OU coursework. In addition, students entering the MPA program as conditional admits are not allowed any incomplete (‘I’) or withdrawal (‘W’) grades at any time during the period of admission with conditions.

[Note: if a student does not meet the conditional admission requirements outlined in the Graduate College Bulletin, then the Graduate College will place a permanent enrollment hold on future enrollment in program coursework.]

Semester of Admission:
Students who do not enroll or enroll and subsequently withdraw from classes during the semester for which they were admitted may be required to reapply for admission to the program.

Dual Master’s Degree:
The University of Oklahoma offers a dual master’s degree for students who have an interest in combining subject matter expertise with general public administration and public policy knowledge. Dual degrees combining the MPA and the respective master’s degree in social work, regional and city planning, human relations and economics are popular. Students may complete two master’s degrees at the same time with a reduction of up to 20 percent of the total graduate credit hours required for both degrees.

All students must be admitted to both programs prior to completing 12 hours of coursework.
Further, all students must complete the Office of Graduate Admissions online admissions application to request a change of program. Contact the graduate programs office in 205-DAHT for more information. Students must satisfy the degree requirements for both degrees and must graduate with both degrees in the same semester. For more information about the dual master’s degree, go to the OU Graduate College website at http://www.ou.edu/gradcollege/forms/bulletin/programs#2.2.2.

[Note: a student under any type of probation, or in their first semester of conditional admission is not permitted to change a graduate major.]

Accelerated Degree Program
Undergraduate students in the Department of Political Science may be admitted to the Master of Public Administration program who wish to earn both a BA and MPA in five years of study. Both political science and public affairs and administration undergraduate majors are eligible for the Accelerated Degree Program (ADP). Students are expected to apply to the BA/MPA ADP no later than the first semester of their junior year. Prospective students who do not meet the application deadline will be considered for admission on a case-by-case basis. Students must have a minimum 3.50 overall undergraduate GPA for admission and maintain a 3.00 GPA while enrolled in the ADP. To learn more visit http://www.ou.edu/cas/psc/ba-mpa.
Transfer Credit Applied to the Master’s Degree

Transfer credit applied to a master’s degree at the University of Oklahoma is subject to limitations and must meet criteria established by the Office of Graduate Admissions, the academic unit offering the degree and the Graduate College. Academic units may set more stringent rules for transfer credit, which must be identified in the section of the University of Oklahoma General Catalog describing the academic unit’s graduate programs. Transfer credit must meet all of the following criteria:

- Official transcripts must be submitted to the Office of Graduate Admissions for verification that the coursework transferred represents valid graduate credit earned in graduate-level courses from a regionally accredited college or university.
- The credit was not previously applied to a completed bachelor’s, master’s or doctoral degree.
- The credit is not more than five years old at the time of admission or readmission to the University of Oklahoma graduate degree program.
- The credit is applicable to the degree.
- The credit carries a grade of A, B or S on a 4.0 scale. The S grade must be equivalent to a B or higher. For institutions with an expanded grading system (+/- system), the grade must be equivalent to 3.0 or higher. Transfer credit carrying a grade of B-minus, P or CR cannot be applied to a graduate degree.
- The credit is approved by the academic unit, which may have more stringent requirements than those of the Graduate College.
- The credit is approved by the Dean of the Graduate College.

Graduate College Limitations on Transfer Credit Applied to the Master’s Degree:

- When combined, hours transferred from other institutions and residence credit taken before admission to a graduate degree program may not constitute more than 12 credit hours.
- Credit transferred from other institutions may not be double-counted for a dual master’s degree.
- The academic unit may have more stringent limitations than those of the Graduate College. These limitations must be identified in the General Catalog and will take precedence over those found elsewhere.

Department Limitations on Transfer Credit Applied to the Master’s Degree:

- A maximum of twelve credit hours of approved transfer credit from other universities may count toward elective credit hours.
- Generally, transfer credit hours may not count towards the fulfillment of required courses.

Procedure for Requesting Transfer Credit Approval:

The Graduate Programs in Public Administration does not automatically review transcripts from other schools for potential transfer credit. If you have completed graduate coursework at another university prior to your admission to our program, and have submitted an official transcript with your application package, you will need to follow these steps to request transfer credit approval:

1. Contact the graduate programs office in 205-DAHT to request the Director of Graduate Programs in Public Administration to review your prior graduate transcript.

7 Available online at: http://www.ou.edu/gradcollege/forms/bulletin/masters-info#7.1.2.1
8 Available online at: http://www.ou.edu/gradcollege/forms/bulletin/masters-info#7.1.2.2
2. Provide a copy of the syllabus for each course you are transferring. The director may have other MPA faculty members review the syllabus for their recommendations. The director will make the final decision concerning if transfer credit is approved at the program level.

3. On the student’s behalf, the director will petition the Dean of the Graduate College and request approval of the transfer credits. All transfer requests approved by the program are reviewed by the Dean of the Graduate College and subject to final approval by the Graduate College.

4. Upon final approval by the Graduate College, the student when completing the Program of Study (POS) form must list the transfer credit in the appropriate section of the form. [Note: you cannot take an OU course that covers the same subject matter as the transfer course.]

Military and/or CPM Course Work:
If you completed military or Certified Public Manager (CPM) coursework but did not include this in your original admission materials, send official transcripts to the graduate programs office located in 205-DAHT.
SECTION 2: DEGREE REQUIREMENTS

The MPA degree requires the minimum completion of 36 hours of graduate credit. Since we are certifying your competence to potential employers, we require that at least 24 of those hours be in Public Administration/Public Policy courses offered by the University of Oklahoma. With the majority of your courses within the Political Science department, you will receive the high quality education we have pledged to provide. These courses can be found in the OU catalog prefixed with "P SC."

The MPA degree program features great flexibility with course scheduling. However, your first six credit hours of coursework must be P SC-prefixed courses. To take non-P SC courses during your first six credit hours of coursework, you must petition the Director of Graduate Programs in Public Administration for permission to take those courses; however, variances are unusual.

SECTION 4: TAKING AND COMPLETING COURSEWORK

Course Enrollment and Preparation

ONE Account:
ONE is a collection of services that students may use to take care of many different tasks, such as enrollment, financial aid, and bill payment. You may access your ONE account at: https://one.ou.edu.

OU Email Account:
The university-sponsored email system is the official form of correspondence with our students. To receive OU correspondence and to make sure that you are aware of upcoming requirements and do not miss any degree completion deadlines, it is critical that you access your OU email account on a regular basis. To find out more about setting up an email account, or to have your OU email forwarded to another email account, or if you experience technical problems, contact OU Information Technology at http://itscnorman.ou.edu/contact/ or (405) 325-HELP (4357).

Registering for Courses:
Students can search and register for classes using ONE at https://one.ou.edu. During the enrollment period and before the add/drop deadlines, students may use ONE to enroll in or drop courses. Deadlines for enrollment and withdrawal from courses are posted on the official University calendar for each semester found at: http://www.ou.edu/content/admissions/home/academic_calendar.html

CANVAS:
All classes offered at the university will include student access to a course and learning management system known as CANVAS. The professor maintains the course page, which is not accessible to students until activated by the instructor of record. All OU professors are encouraged to provide the syllabus and setup a grade book. Many professors will use other features supported by CANVAS including a class calendar, class announcements, content links, a drop box to upload student assignments, discussion boards, live chat rooms, quizzes and exams. To access CANVAS, login to ONE and locate the CANVAS tab.

Advisement:
The MPA program is structured for student self-advising. If you have any questions regarding course enrollment, sequencing of courses, or program guidelines and procedures, please feel free to contact a member of the MPA faculty, or the graduate programs office located in 205-DAHT.

Student Orientation:
A student orientation for both new and current students is offered during the fall and spring semester. Typically, the orientation is scheduled during the first two weeks of the semester.

Course Schedules:
MPA courses are offered in a sequence that assures all degree requirements can be met in 18-24 months. Course schedules are accessed via ONE under the academics tab. MPA courses are under the Department of Political Science (PSC) course prefix. The graduate programs office can provide a copy of the department’s two-year schedule to assist you in planning your program of study. [Note: the MPA program offers courses on both the Norman and Tulsa campus. From time-to-time a course being offered on the Norman campus may be offered on the Tulsa campus. Make sure to check the campus location when enrolling in a course.]

Course Formats:
In order to provide flexibility for students with varied work and family obligations, the MPA program offers courses in several formats. Classes are generally structured to include exam(s), significant student participation, and a research assignment or experiential learning.

Traditional 15-Week Format - Each semester, classes at both the Norman and Tulsa campuses are taught in the traditional, semester format. These classes meet one evening per week, for three hours per class session.

Three-Weekend Format - Meet exclusively for three weekends in a semester. These classes meet on Friday evenings, all day Saturday and Sunday afternoons.

Internet-Based (Online) Courses - MPA students can take courses in an online-mediated format. These classes typically last 8 weeks. Requirements for these classes widely vary. However, it is reasonable to expect a combination of online (real-time or time-delayed) participation; multiple, analytical assignments such as problem sets, case-study analysis or scholarly research; and exam(s). Enrollment for these classes is the same as other Norman or Tulsa campus courses.

Dropping Courses and Withdrawal:
Please consult the University academic calendar for specific information on course withdrawal deadlines. University policy prohibits dropping courses after the tenth week of the spring or fall semester; for summer courses, please refer to the University academic calendar to see the drop deadlines for each summer block. Excessive withdrawal from courses during an academic year may result in an unsatisfactory annual evaluation.

Withdrawal occurs if a student drops all of the classes after classes begin. If withdrawal occurs before the tuition obligation deadline, there are no tuition charges. If the student withdraws after the deadline, the student will be charged full tuition rates. When withdrawing from all of your classes it is critical that you make an informed decision, as there could be an unexpected impact on financial aid, insurance eligibility, etc. Please check with financial aid, your insurance company, or other entities that might need verification of your enrollment before you proceed. We strongly encourage you to let the graduate programs coordinator know your circumstances as a part of making an informed decision that could have far-reaching consequences.

Steps To Withdraw From All Classes
First two weeks of a Fall or Spring term
- Graduate students should contact the Office of Enrollment Services by emailing enroll@ou.edu or by calling (405) 325-3572.

Week three thru week 16 of a Fall or Spring term
- Graduate students should contact the Graduate College office by emailing gradinfo@ou.edu or by calling (405) 325-3811.
Students withdrawing from all courses in the first ten weeks of fall and spring classes receive the grade of W in each course of enrollment. Beginning with the eleventh week through the last day of classes of the semester, instructors must assign a grade of W or F in each course upon withdrawal. Complete withdrawal may require approval of the Dean of the Graduate College and exceptions are granted only in extenuating circumstances such as serious or prolonged illness, and you must provide documentation to substantiate your request.

Annual Progress Review

All graduate students' academic progress is annually reviewed to assess progress towards degree completion and to advise students of any outstanding issues that must be resolved to continue in the program. The evaluation criteria may include, but is not limited to, considerations such as:

- progress made in meeting conditions of admission
- completion, within the prescribed period of time, of those courses in which the student has received an Incomplete grade.
- completion of core course requirements
- progress made in completing research requirements
- timely filing of the prospectus
- the general quality of research
- completion of the thesis or dissertation.

The evaluation also may encompass the student’s broader scholarly capabilities and professional development. Students will receive an electronic copy of the evaluation each year. All annual evaluations are submitted to the Graduate College. If you have concerns about your progress, please contact the Director of Graduate Programs in Public Administration.¹

Grade Requirements and Academic Probation:

Graduate students in the MPA program must maintain a GPA of 3.00 or higher during each semester. Anytime a student’s GPA is below 3.00, the Graduate College will place a student on academic probation. The student must earn enough hours of “A” grades to bring the GPA up to a 3.00 within the next 12 credit hours of enrollment. During the probationary period, advanced registration for future coursework is not permitted. A student on academic probation may not attempt a non-thesis examination or graduate. A student who does not improve his or her GPA each semester may be denied further enrollment. A student will be denied further enrollment when placed on any type of academic probation for the third time. Other conditions and rules may apply.²

Information on Special Courses

PSC 5963 Capstone in Public Administration:

Enrollment in this course is only allowed when you are nearing completion of the MPA program, usually after you have completed 27 credit hours. You will need special permission to enroll in this class and should be sure to enroll in three credit hours. To receive permission, a student must submit the MPA Program of Study (POS) form to the graduate programs office the semester prior to taking PSC 5963. Contact the graduate programs office for more information and specific deadlines.

¹ Available online at: http://www.ou.edu/gradcollege/forms/bulletin/standards#6.2.6

² Available online at: http://www.ou.edu/gradcollege/forms/bulletin/standards#6.2.4

The assignments for PSC 5963 satisfy the comprehensive examination requirement of the Graduate College. Once your comprehensive examination is approved, the Graduate College allows the examination to remain valid for two years. If you are unable to complete the degree requirements within this two-year period, you will have to reenroll in coursework and successfully complete the comprehensive examination again.

PSC 5960 Independent Directed Readings:
You may complete up to six credit hours through directed reading courses. To enroll in PSC 5960, you need to contact an MPA professor and ask the faculty member to agree to supervise the directed readings. You and the professor will come to an agreement on your reading materials and course assignments. The professor will notify the graduate programs office of the arrangement. Then permission for online enrollment will be given. Enrollment in an independent directed readings course is not routinely approved but is considered on a case-by-case basis depending on your specific circumstances and on the availability of an MPA faculty member to direct the readings.

Variable Content Courses and Seminars:
PSC 5153, 5170, 6123, 6143, 6173 and 6223 are variable content classes. You can take these courses more than once, as long as there is a substantial difference in the content of the course number repeated. For example, one semester you enroll in PSC 6223, Seminar in Public Policy, on environmental issues. Then, a year later PSC 6223 is offered again, but the subject is a national security issue. You are permitted to enroll in the PSC 6223 course again. There are limits on the number of hours you can accumulate through repeats of the same course number. Specifically, MPA students may enroll in up to six credit hours under any PSC 5000-level seminar, or nine credit hours under any PSC 6000-level seminar course providing there is a change of subject matter for each enrollment. You should make sure the content of the repeated course is different from the earlier course. When you begin the enrollment process, look carefully at the title of the course that you wish to repeat and review the course description or syllabus. If you have any doubt about whether the content is the same or different from the previous course, we suggest consulting with the graduate programs office.

Internship:
If you are able to arrange an internship with a public or nonprofit organization, you may receive three hours of graduate credit by enrolling in PSC 5910, Government Internship. To earn credit hours, you will be required to work 80 hours per credit hour, research a topic related to the internship and submit a written paper or portfolio project to your MPA faculty advisor. As part of the credit hour requirements, your direct supervisor also evaluates your job performance. The course may be repeated; maximum credit eight hours. Contact the graduate programs office for the internship application and additional enrollment requirements.
Academic Integrity and Academic Misconduct

Graduate students must uphold the highest standards of academic integrity. It is the responsibility of each student to be familiar with the definitions, policies and procedures concerning academic misconduct. The Academic Integrity Code defines academic misconduct as any act, which improperly affects the evaluation of a student’s academic performance or achievement. Examples include, but are not limited to:

- cheating and unauthorized material on examinations and other assignments,
- improper collaboration,
- academic misconduct in online courses
- submitting the same assignments for different classes,
- fabrication, forgery, alteration of documents, lying, etc., in order to obtain academic advantage,
- assisting others in misconduct,
- attempting to commit misconduct,
- destruction of property, hacking, etc.,
- intimidation and interference with integrity process,
- Plagiarism

Complete information about academic integrity is available at the OU Academic Integrity website http://integrity.ou.edu.

SECTION 5: FINISHING THE DEGREE REQUIREMENTS

Program of Study (POS)
The Program of Study (POS) form is an official Graduate College document used to assure that you satisfy all MPA degree requirements. In addition to providing details about when you have taken the required, area and elective courses, and the grades you received, it also allows you to report coursework that satisfies the concentration requirements.

We suggest that you print the POS form when you start taking classes to use as a planning guide. The form is found on the Graduate College website:
http://www.ou.edu/gradcollege/forms/program-of-study

The Graduate College maintains strict deadlines for submission of the POS form. The filing deadlines are available at: http://www.ou.edu/gradcollege/current-students/progress-completion/deadlines Return the completed form to the graduate programs office located in 205-DAHT. Once approved by the Director of Graduate Programs in Public Administration, the form is submitted to the Graduate College on your behalf. Please contact the graduate programs office if you have further questions about completing this form.

When completing the POS form, follow these guidelines.
1. Contact the graduate programs office for a copy of the most up-to-date two-year schedule. This will help with identifying future courses available to you.
2. List ALL 36 credit hours of degree coursework, even if some classes have not yet been completed. You can abbreviate course titles to fit within the allotted space. Enter course grades from completed courses. If you have not yet taken a course, leave the grade area blank. The Graduate College will fill in the grades when those courses are completed.
3. Complete the form in its entirety.
4. Do not list courses with permanent grades of "I", "W", "U" or courses with grades below "C" on the form. These courses do not count toward the 36 credit hour degree requirement.
5. Save a .pdf of the form for your records. Often student will need to correct issues observed by the graduate programs office.
6. Indicate the semester and year you plan to graduate.
7. Sign and date the form.
8. Submit your POS to the graduate programs office well in advance of the Graduate College deadlines to avoid graduation delays. The form is reviewed and signed by the Director of Graduate Programs in Public Administration and forwarded to the Graduate College on your behalf.

[Note: You may alter your POS at any time with the consent of the Director. You do not need to submit a new form; the graduate programs office will make the necessary notations on your original form and submit to the Graduate College. If you alter your program of study after submitting the POS form, contact the graduate programs office as soon as possible.]
Time Limitations for Degree Completion:

There are three different time limitations that pertain to degree completion:

1. Incomplete ("I") Grade
2. Five-Year Rule
3. Lapsed Enrollment Status

Incomplete ("I") Grade:

A grade of “I” for incomplete coursework can never be used in lieu of a “F” nor can an “I” be assigned because of failure to participate in class activities. If you receive an ‘I’ grade in any course, you are required to complete an Incomplete Contract with the instructor of record for the course in which you’ve received an “I” grade. The form is available at https://www.ou.edu/content/dam/portal/PACAA/Incomplete%20Contract%202.12.15%20fillable.pdf. Incomplete guidelines are available on the back of the Incomplete Contract.

The university allows up to one year from the end of the semester in which the course was taken to finish the work. While the university allows a maximum of one year to complete the course, individual professors and the Director of Graduate Programs in Public Administration may impose earlier time limits. You are responsible for verifying and meeting deadlines imposed in the syllabus and/or by the professor. OU-MPA faculty are not obligated to accept coursework beyond those deadlines. If you fail to complete coursework by the appointed deadline, the “I” will be changed to the pre-determined grade as noted on the Incomplete Contract or as a “F” grade. Despite either scenario, credit will not be accepted for that course; therefore, re-enrollment and all tuition and applicable fees may be necessary for degree completion. State Regents policy specifically forbids a student from enrolling in a course for one full year after receiving a grade of “I” in the same course.

Degree Completion Time Limit—The Five-Year Rule:

The MPA degree must be completed within five years of your first enrollment in graduate coursework. The University considers graduate course credit to be valid for five years after the course is complete. The five years begins at the end of the semester in which you took the coursework. For example, if you took classes in our program in the fall of 2010, then you would have until early December 2015 before those course credits would become overage and could not be included in degree completion.\(^{11}\)

Lapsed Enrollment:

A graduate student who has a lapse of enrollment for one year is considered inactive and must reapply for admission to the MPA program. A student readmitted after a lapsed enrollment is subject to the MPA degree requirements in effect at the time of readmission and are subject to course age limits.\(^{12}\)

Military Deployment:
The University of Oklahoma supports our service members in times of extended military engagements. If you face delays in completing any class because of TDY, PCS or long-term deployments, please notify your course professor to make arrangements for completing the coursework according to the current University policy. If you have difficulty completing your degree program in five years because of military commitments, you should contact the graduate programs office.
