May Intersession

HES 3593: Sport and Physical Activity in Society

May 18-June 2, 2010

Instructor: Dr. Brittain, Department of Health and Exercise Science
Office: 112 Huston Huffman Center
Phone: 325-9028
Email: dbrittain@ou.edu

Course Description:
This 3 credit hour course examines major theoretical perspectives and research with particular emphasis on sport and physical activity in contemporary American society. Specifically, we will address the following issues that concern physical activity and sport in our society:

- The history of sport and physical activity.
- The role of educational institutions as an influencing factor of American children.
- Social problems and issues surrounding violence and deviance.
- Gender and ethnic minorities.
- The media’s influence on sport and physical activity.

THIS CLASS QUALIFIES AS AN UPPER DIVISION ELECTIVE FOR HES MAJORS.
ALL ACADEMIC DISCIPLINES WELCOME

If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact me! 😊