

OAS Fall Dig

October 11 – 14, 2018

The OKLAHOMA ANTHROPOLOGICAL SOCIETY returns for the second time to MULDROW, OKLAHOMA in October for our FALL DIG. Our excavation last year yielded artifacts dating back 800 years and more, the time period when nearby Spiro mounds was thriving. Join us this year and help us recover tantalizing clues to Oklahoma's distant past!

Participation is open to ages 10 and older, 16 and under accompanied by an adult. Dr. Scott Hammerstedt of the Oklahoma Archaeological Survey will supervise the excavation and answer all questions at the dig. Members of OKPAN, the Oklahoma Public Archaeology Network, will be on site to conduct demonstrations and provide instruction in proper excavation techniques.

To help excavate, all participants must be Oklahoma Anthropological Society members.

OAS Membership Fees:

- Society membership (starting at) - $20
- Student membership - $10
- Additional family member - $5
- 2 or more family members - $10
- Participation cost - Dig fee - $5 per day

Our dig is an ideal opportunity for anyone who have wanted to participate in a genuine archaeological excavation, but have never had the opportunity. Guest dig kits, including trowels and other essential equipment for excavating will be provided by the society. The dig will also be an excellent chance for students and avocational archaeologists to sharpen skills and gain experience.

For more information, contact OAS Dig Chairman Ray McAllister at alpacamack@gmail.com

SEE YOU THERE!