

The College of Arts and Sciences Research Discussion Series and the Humanities Forum invite you to a discussion on funding opportunities for the Humanities

10:30am- Noon, Friday, February 15

Ellison Hall Room 132

Panelists:

Scott Johnson, Department Classics and Letters

Guggenheim Fellowship, 2018-19

Project field: Intellectual and Cultural History

Kathryn Schumaker, Department of Classics and Letters

NEH Summer Stipend, 2016

Project field: African American History; U.S. History

David Vishanoff, Department of Religious Studies

NEH and ACLS Fellowships, 2018-19

Project Field: Islamic Studies

For information on grants and the workshop schedule visit

<https://www.neh.gov/grants>

<http://www.ou.edu/humanitiesforum/neh-regional-workshop>

<https://www.gf.org/about/fellowship/>

<https://www.acls.org/Fellowship-and-Grant-Programs/>

Associate Dean, Georgia Kosmopoulou, will provide a brief overview of available Guggenheim, NEH and ACLS fellowship opportunities. The Director of the Humanities Forum, Janet Ward, will provide information on the upcoming NEH grant application workshop coming to OU on Feb. 21-22, 2019. Q&A will follow.

For accommodations on the basis of disability, please contact Cassie Zaccarelli at (405) 325-4645

Image source: NEH