Course Objectives:

As a result of this course, the student will:

1. acquire an understanding of the historical foundations of contemporary international terrorism from the point of view of both international relations (between nations) and comparative politics (within nations);
2. be able to understand political, social, and economic theories regarding the causes of terrorism, its control, and the consequences of implementing those controls;
3. be able to identify geographical regions and states where the roots of terrorism are prevalent, precisely identifying those root causes where possible;
4. be able to analyze primary/umbrella terror groups, their organizational and inter-organizational characteristics, including their recruiting, financing, and operating strategies;
5. be able to articulate informed opinion about international terrorism, its interface with transnational organized crime, other socio-economic developments, and global impact;
6. be able to examine the roles of militancy, religion, ethnicity, and other interests in identity-based conflicts, intractable conflicts, uprisings, wars, and war-like situations; and
7. appreciate the challenges of international terrorism intelligence analysis, conflict de-escalation, and intervention.

Assignments, Grading and Due Dates:

1. Please read the Hoffman book before coming to the first class.
2. After reading the Hoffman book, use the internet to perform a case study on any terrorism group that interests you. Some examples include, but are not limited to: Abu Nidal Organization, Abu Sayaf Group, al Qaeda, ASALA, ETA, Black September, DHKP-C, FLNC, Hamas, Hezbollah, IRAPIRA, JDL, Tamil Tigers, National Liberation Army, PLO, PIJ, Red Army Faction, Shining Path, Tupac Amaru. Your case study should be about 2 pages long and should answer questions such as who, what, where, when, and why. Be sure to include common targets, tactics, and funding sources. Include at least one picture in your briefing. Prepare a simple PowerPoint presentation so that you can brief the class on what you have learned. Your presentation should be about five minutes long and should include about 5-8 slides. You will need this the first day of class. Important: Go to the D2L site for our class and complete the “Briefing” discussion so that we do not have any overlap (we do not need six presentations on the RAF). First come, first serve. This paper is worth 20% of your final grade.
3. There will be two in-class assignments. These assignments will be worth 20% of your final grade.
4. There will be one final exam. This exam will be administered in the final three hours of the week. The final exam will cover course material discussed throughout the week. There will be one question from each 3 hours section of the class. These assignments will be worth 50% of your final grade.
5. Classroom participation is vital in this type of seminar and is worth 10% of your final grade.

Grading: This is a letter-graded course: A, B, C, D, or F.

NOTICE: Failure to meet assignment due dates could result in a grade of I (Incomplete) and may adversely impact Tuition Assistance and/or Financial Aid.
POLICIES AND NOTICES

Attendance/Grade Policy

Attendance and participation in interaction, individual assignments, group exercises, simulations, role playing, etc. are valuable aspects of any course because much of the learning comes from discussions in class with other students. It is expected that you attend all classes and be on time except for excused emergencies.

Excused absences are given for professor mandated activities or legally required activities such as emergencies or military assignments. Unavoidable personal emergencies, including (but not limited to) serious illness; delays in getting to class because of accidents, etc.; deaths and funerals, and hazardous road conditions will be excused.

If you are obtaining financial assistance (TA, STAP, FA, VA, Scholarship, etc.) to pay all or part of your tuition cost, you must follow your funding agency/institution’s policy regarding “I” (Incomplete) grades unless the timeline is longer than what the University policy allows then you must adhere to the University policy.

Students who receive Financial Aid must resolve/complete any “I” (Incomplete) grades by the end of the term or he/she may be placed on “financial aid probation.” If the “I” grade is not resolved/completed by the end of the following term, the student’s Financial Aid may be suspended make the student ineligible for further Financial Aid.

Students are responsible for meeting the guidelines of Tuition Assistance and Veterans Assistance. See the education counselor at your local education center for a complete description of your TA or VA requirements.

Academic Honesty

Honesty is a fundamental precept in all academic activities and … [you] have a special obligation to observe the highest standards of honesty. Academic misconduct in any form is inimical to the purposes and functions of the University and is therefore unacceptable and is rigorously proscribed. Academic misconduct includes:

- cheating (using unauthorized materials, information, or study aids in any academic exercise), plagiarism, falsification of records, unauthorized possession of examinations, intimidation, and any and all other actions that may improperly affect the evaluation of a student’s academic performance or achievement; assisting others in any such act; or attempting to engage in such acts.

All acts of academic misconduct will be reported and adjudicated as prescribed by the student code of the University of Oklahoma. All students should review the “Student’s Guide to Academic Integrity” found at http://www.ou.edu/provost/integrity.
