Course Title:
International Conflict Resolution

Course Number:
HR 5110-106

Course Description:
International Conflict Resolution focuses on helping students to gain global knowledge of sources of conflict and ideas about conflict resolution. We shall find that when religious, political, or social tensions within small nations fester, they have sometimes become the responsibility of bigger nations. The responsibility of outsiders is to monitor such problems and to learn to be attuned to how conflicts might be mitigated and resolved.

Assignments, Grading and Due Dates:

First paper:
Read Ferguson’s book and write a critical summary at least four pages long of one chapter of Ferguson’s book with a view to conflicts resolved and not resolved. Papers should be typewritten, double spaced, in twelve-point type, and use a recognized citation style to refer to the book. Sources other than the book may be used but are not required. People with last names ending A through M choose a chapter from the first half of the book, and people with names N through Z choose a chapter from the second half. Students should be ready to lead discussion on their chosen chapters.

Final Paper:
Due Two weeks after the end of class: Write a policy proposal for the resolution of one current international conflict utilizing and critiquing Burton’s papers as well as at least three other peer-reviewed articles from JSTOR or other peer-reviewed sources. The paper must use a recognized citation method and should be ten or more double-spaced pages in length in 12-point type. Papers may be e-mailed to dcsnell@ou.edu as attachments; if I have trouble opening them, I shall ask you to send it in another way.

Grading:
This is a letter-graded course: A, B, C, D, or F.

NOTICE: Failure to meet assignment due dates could result in a grade of I (Incomplete) and may adversely impact Tuition Assistance and/or Financial Aid.
POLICIES AND NOTICES

Attendance/Grade Policy

Attendance and participation in interaction, individual assignments, group exercises, simulations, role playing, etc. are valuable aspects of any course because much of the learning comes from discussions in class with other students. It is expected that you attend all classes and be on time except for excused emergencies.

Excused absences are given for professor mandated activities or legally required activities such as emergencies or military assignments. Unavoidable personal emergencies, including (but not limited to) serious illness; delays in getting to class because of accidents, etc.; deaths and funerals, and hazardous road conditions will be excused.

If you are obtaining financial assistance (TA, STAP, FA, VA, Scholarship, etc.) to pay all or part of your tuition cost, you must follow your funding agency/institution’s policy regarding “I” (Incomplete) grades unless the timeline is longer than what the University policy allows then you must adhere to the University policy.

Students who receive Financial Aid must resolve/complete any “I” (Incomplete) grades by the end of the term or he/she may be placed on “financial aid probation.” If the “I” grade is not resolved/completed by the end of the following term, the student’s Financial Aid may be suspended make the student ineligible for further Financial Aid.

Students are responsible for meeting the guidelines of Tuition Assistance and Veterans Assistance. See the education counselor at your local education center for a complete description of your TA or VA requirements.

Academic Honesty

Honesty is a fundamental precept in all academic activities and … [you] have a special obligation to observe the highest standards of honesty. Academic misconduct in any form is inimical to the purposes and functions of the University and is therefore unacceptable and is rigorously proscribed. Academic misconduct includes:

- cheating (using unauthorized materials, information, or study aids in any academic exercise), plagiarism, falsification of records, unauthorized possession of examinations, intimidation, and any and all other actions that may improperly affect the evaluation of a student’s academic performance or achievement; assisting others in any such act; or attempting to engage in such acts.

All acts of academic misconduct will be reported and adjudicated as prescribed by the student code of the University of Oklahoma. All students should review the “Student’s Guide to Academic Integrity” found at http://www.ou.edu/provost/integrity
