WELCOME

Congratulations on your decision to join us at the University of Oklahoma and become a part of the OU Family!

The University of Oklahoma is home to countless student organizations, each bringing a unique aspect to the university community. Our campus fraternities and sororities are no different, each providing a place for growth and personal development of OU students. Regardless of how far you will travel to Norman, your chosen organization will quickly become your home away from home and the members of your fraternity or sorority will soon become your family.

Greek students have been a part of the longstanding tradition at the University of Oklahoma since the first fraternity was established here in 1905. Academic excellence, civic engagement, volunteerism, and friendship are just a few tenets that make our fraternity and sorority community so special.

Your time spent at the University of Oklahoma will be some of the best years of your life, and we hope this guide will provide you with the information and resources necessary to consider fraternity or sorority membership here on campus.

We wish you the best in your collegiate experience and hope you will join us as a member of the fraternity and sorority community at OU.

With excitement,

SIGNATURE PROGRAMS

Thank you for your interest in Fraternity and Programs and Services (FSPS) at the University of Oklahoma! We proudly serve students by providing leadership and personal development opportunities during the year. Our team encourages students to get involved to provide an enhanced collegiate experience. Check out some of our signature programs below:

GREEK SERVICE WEEK

Greek Service Week is a student-led initiative to promote service and give back to the Norman community. Each council hosts a day of service for members of the entire Greek community to participate in. Greek Service Week occurs each fall semester at OU.

GREEK PREVIEW DAY

Greek Preview Day is an opportunity for high school seniors or non-affiliated University of Oklahoma students and their families to connect with our fraternity and sorority community. This event, hosted each spring, is a way for those interested in Greek life to get connected early.

SAFE BREAK

Safe Break is an annual pre-Spring Break event held in honor of Lisa Weider, a Panhellenic woman who passed away tragically while on Spring Break in 2004. The event promotes safety during Spring Break activities for all Greek students.

FSPS LEADERSHIP RETREAT

Each spring, the FSPS staff hosts a leadership retreat for all Greek council executive officers and chapter presidents. The retreat is an optimal time for personal and leadership development, as well as a time to build relationships with leaders in other councils.

EDUCATION SESSIONS

The fraternity and sorority community values the safety of our members. All new members of fraternities and sororities on campus must attend three educational sessions to prepare, empower, and equip them to take ownership of their new member experience. Students must attend sessions on hazing prevention, sexual assault awareness, and alcohol education.

STANDARDS OF EXCELLENCE

The Standards of Excellence initiative focuses on the integration of our core principles among all fraternities and sororities. Each year we award chapters in six core areas of excellence that represent the goals of chapter members and the university and its commitment to providing meaningful experiences outside the classroom for all students.

OUR COMMUNITY VISION

ACADEMIC EXCELLENCE

All Greek organizations understand their members are students first. Our chapters challenge members to exceed academically through mentorship programs, study halls, and academic workshops.

DEVELOPMENT AND EDUCATION

Our chapters provide leadership development for their members in many ways. We expect students to leave their chapters having grown as leaders. Student development is a priority for our community.

SERVICE AND ENGAGEMENT

Serving the community is a touchstone of Greek Life at the University of Oklahoma. Whether contributing service hours, raising funds or both, our chapters love giving back to the OU and Norman communities.

SIBLINGHOOD AND FRIENDSHIP

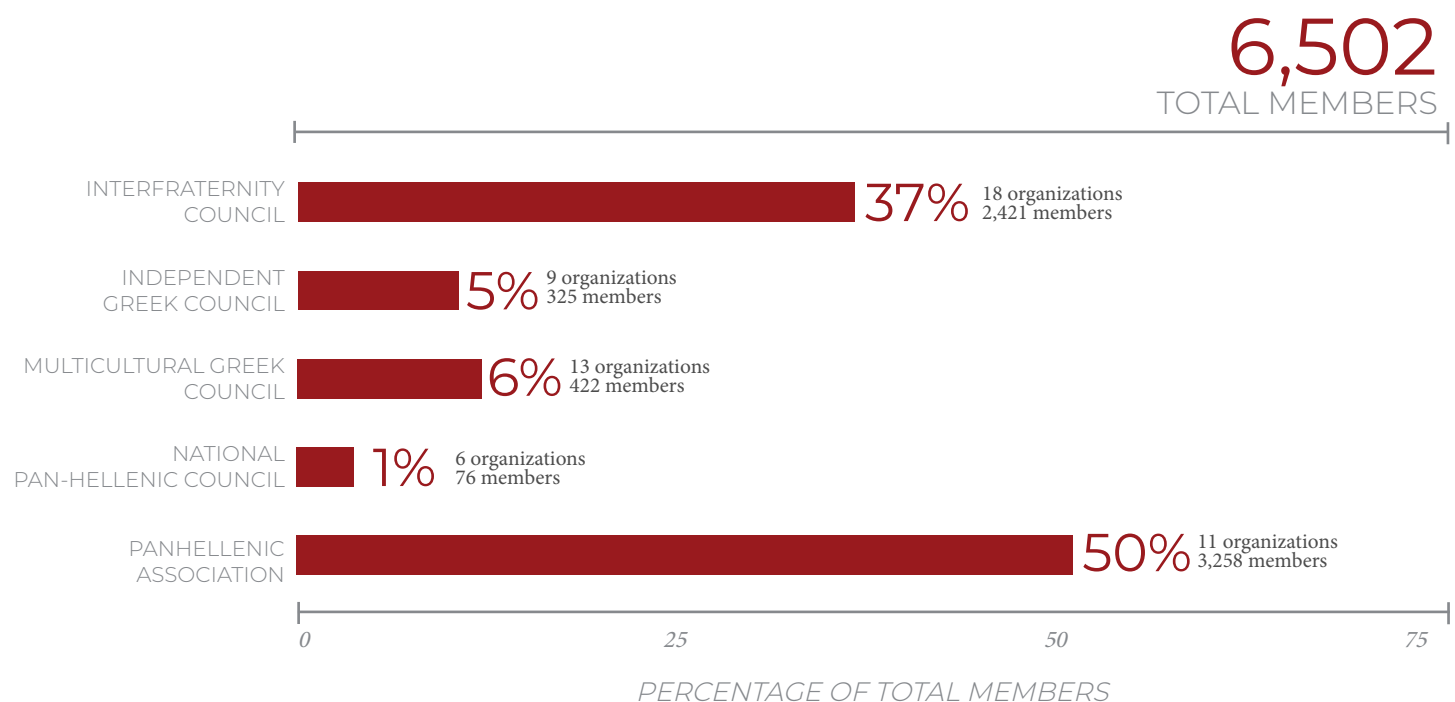

Brother and sisterhood between members and organizations on campus is a part of our community we value. These connections impact students and help make a large campus like OU feel like home.

WHO WE SERVE

Fraternity and sorority life at the University of Oklahoma totals more than 6,500 students, making up about 30% of the overall student body. Today, our community boasts 57 Greek-letter organizations, 27 chapter facilities, and five Greek councils. Each organization has its own rituals, traditions, and philanthropies, but they strive to live by our community's vision of academic excellence, education and development for members, service and community engagement, and siblinghood.

I joined my organization because I was so inspired by their commitment to serving both their campus community and their outside, local community. I found that all the women who I looked up to were members, and they were committed to growth in all aspects.

My favorite part of Greek life has been continuing this service in our programmed events and general community service.

Rachael Owens

2022 Anona Adair Award Outstanding Greek Senior Award Recipient Member of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Inc.

For me, Greek life was a way to get involved on campus as an incoming student — a way that I hoped would help open the door for more opportunities later on in college. That could not have been more true.

My Greek affiliation has allowed me to gain valuable leadership and involvement experience within my own chapter, while also helping me relate to my peers in other student organizations all over campus.

Jackson Conner

*Public Relations & Political Science Senior from North Little Rock, Arkansas
Member of Sigma Nu Fraternity*

Being in a Greek organization is a fulfilling life-long experience that continues to give back what you put into the journey. It enhances the college experience through connections, memories and service. My advice for someone who wants to join a NPHC organization is to uphold academic excellence and get involved. Take advantage of the all the opportunities OU has to offer and the events NPHC puts on for the entire university community.

I decided to join my chapter, Sigma Phi Lambda, because it is an organization that allowed me to find a group of sisters who were able to support me and encourage me as we shared the same faith.

My organization has provided me with so many amazing mentors and resources and truly helped me find my home and community here at OU. It's been a really special experience that I would not trade for anything.

Alene Basmadjian

I cannot thank the Greek community at OU enough for the impact it has made on my life. I have been able to develop skills and traits that will serve me for a lifetime. My growth as a leader and my love for my brothers and the community is something I hold dear to my heart. No matter where I go or what I do, I feel as if I've found a home away from home and a family like none other in the fraternity and sorority community here at the University of Oklahoma.

My favorite part about being a part of Greek life is how we are able to collaborate and advocate for change in our community. I feel very empowered by my peers in this community to work towards positive change.

I have learned so much from this experience and would encourage incoming students to buy into everything. Go all in because you will get everything out of this experience that you put in.

INTERFRATERNITY COUNCIL

Members: 2,421 ■ Organizations: 18 ■ ifc.ou.edu

Students representing organizations in the Interfraternity Council at the University of Oklahoma

On behalf of myself, the 17 chapters and 2,400+ men in the IFC community, welcome to the Interfraternity Council! The Interfraternity Council (IFC) is the governing body for the 17 Fraternity chapters at the University of Oklahoma. Our organizations are filled with student leaders who are passionate about the continuous development of our members throughout all stages of the fraternity experience, including new members, general members, executive board members, and eventually as alumni of their chapter and OU.

Our IFC chapters at the University of Oklahoma are founded on the pillars of academics, leadership, service, and brotherhood. Our organizations serve as a home away from home during students' impactful college years and serve to motivate our members to grow in character, relationships, and professional ambitions.

MATT HALVERSON
Interfraternity Council President

IFC members consistently have leadership roles within the Student Government Association, Campus Activities Council, Union Programming Board, Leadership & Volunteerism, and many more communities across our campus. As a group, our chapters at OU have contributed thousands of hours of community service and have raised tens of thousands of dollars for local and national causes. IFC is dedicated to making an impact within our local community as well as consistently working to maintain a positive relationship with all of our surrounding community members.

My fraternity experience has played a defining role in shaping the man that I am today. The growth in confidence, leadership skills, integrity, and the lifelong friendships that I attribute to this community accentuates every facet of my time in college. Throughout my time at OU I have watched thousands of IFC students experience tremendous opportunities for personal growth, develop an appreciation for giving back to their community, and hone the leadership skills necessary for men to succeed long after their days on campus. I hope you give serious consideration to making this life-changing decision and experience the IFC community that gives so much to so many.

-Matt Halverson, IFC President

DISA BATY
National Pan-Hellenic Council President

Welcome! I am extremely honored to serve as the National Pan-Hellenic Council president for the 2022-2023 school year. I am amazed at all the interest for the historical Black Greek Letter Organizations (Divine 9) and I hope they improve more and more over time. Although we are a historically Black Greek lettered organization, all ethnicities and races are welcome.

At the University of Oklahoma, we have five active chapters with two additional organizations rechartering this year. All our organizations prioritize scholarship, sisterhood and brotherhood, and service but have different mottos, creeds, and mission statements that are unique to their organization. We are a community of service-based organizations and continue to give back to the community around us.

Membership in NPHC is a lifetime commitment and goes beyond college. In the past, these organizations helped create safe spaces for African Americans during a time when they faced racism and other challenges on and off campus. Today, that safe space still exists for many of our members. Members of NPHC create memories that will be cherished for a lifetime while continuing the commitment to their individual organizations.

MEMBERSHIP INTAKE & RECRUITMENT

The membership intake and recruitment processes look very different for each Greek council on campus. Each council and sometimes the individual chapters within each council have differing processes for bringing in new members to their organizations. For more specific information regarding membership intake and recruitment, please visit www.greek.ou.edu.

IGC

Independent Greek Council

Many IGC chapters hold recruitment during the first few weeks of school and some during both the fall and spring semesters. Look out for emails and social media announcements from individual chapters for specific recruitment dates and more information.

Visit the IGC social media accounts (@ou_igc) for information about recruitment events to attend.

MGC

Multicultural Greek Council

Most MGC chapters require students to attend two recruitment events and an informational session at the beginning of each semester during the MGC Recruitment period. You must turn in an application and interview before a bid (membership offer) can be extended.

Event to attend:
MGC Showcase held early in the fall semester.

NPHC

National Pan-Hellenic Council

Each organization has its own specific requirements for aspirants to become candidates for membership. All students are required to attend educational workshops and informationals as well as be at least a second-semester freshman to be considered to for membership.

Event to attend:
Greekdom 101 held in late August / early September.

IFC

Interfraternity Council

IFC chapters participate in recruitment during the year. Formal Recruitment takes place during the first week of school in the spring and fall semesters. Registration for fall recruitment begins in May and registration for spring recruitment begins in December. Any male student is eligible to participate in IFC Recruitment at the University of Oklahoma.

For more information and to register for recruitment, visit ifc.ou.edu.

Event to attend: IFC Formal Recruitment taking place in August 2022.

PAN

Panhellenic Association

Panhellenic chapters participate in formal recruitment each fall, about a week before classes begin. This is a mutual selection process conducted through a week of formal recruitment. At OU, a majority of students obtain membership through this process. Some Panhellenic chapters participate in Continuous Open Bidding throughout each semester.

For more information and to register for recruitment, visit pan.ou.edu.

Event to attend: Panhellenic Formal Recruitment taking place in August 2022.

TALK THE TALK

Fraternity & Sorority Terms to Know

Affiliate

A member who switches schools may also affiliate with the chapter at their new school.

Badge

Also known as a pin, the badge is an item of jewelry given to members upon initiation. Badges are often worn to chapter events and functions.

Bid

An invitation to join an IFC fraternity or PAN sorority, bids are given during formal or informal recruitment.

Big Brother / Sister

Nickname for big brother or sister, a mentor assigned to a new member. Many groups have special names and ceremonies for these pairings.

Call / Chant

A yell used mostly by NPHC organizations (although some IFC, IGC, MGC and PAN organizations have calls as well) used to identify and greet brothers and sisters. Emulating a call/chant of an organization of which you are not a member is a sign of disrespect.

Chapter

A branch of a national fraternity or sorority, established at a campus. Each will have their own name, usually designated by Greek letters.

COB / Informal Recruitment

Continuous Open Bidding and Informal Recruitment are the non-primary recruitment processes that occur during the academic year.

Crossed

The date on which an associate member crossed into a fraternity or sorority to become an active member. Usually a term used in culturally based Greek organizations.

FSPS

Fraternity and Sorority Programs and Services. The FSPS team is composed of campus-based professionals who advise the fraternity and sorority community. The FSPS office at OU is located in Oklahoma Memorial Union.

Informational

Recruitment event for culturally based groups.

Stepping

A series of complex, synchronous and precise rhythmic movements performed to songs, stomps, or chants that are typically created and performed by culturally based Greek-letter organization members.

Strolling

Culturally based Greek-letter organizations members move together in a line expressing pride for their organization. In this line, members express their pride through use of their organization's call, sign or historical information, ritual/custom dances, etc. All of this is done through movements that are unique to a particular organization. Emulating or cutting in/through the line is considered a sign of disrespect.

Student Life

FINANCIAL INFORMATION

Fraternity and sorority membership is a great way to engage on campus. Greek membership does come with a financial commitment we believe is important to understand prior to joining. Members pay dues that are used for various philanthropic projects, national fees, social and alumni events, and more.

Some of our Greek-letter organizations have chapter facilities for members to live in as well. These costs are factored in to upperclassman financial information. These dues and fees help pay for the upkeep of these facilities; a full-time, live-in house director; meal plans; parking; and more.

Traditionally, the new-member period, or first year of membership, is often the most expensive time of membership due to one-time fees for initiation and national fees. We encourage you to ask about financial information during the recruitment or intake process.

Find out more information regarding finances during each year of membership below:

SCHOLARSHIPS AWARDED

Fraternity and sorority members are students first. Many are at the University of Oklahoma on scholarship, and in the 2021-2022 academic year, over $28 million were awarded to Greek students on campus.

FINANCIAL AID

Our community is diverse in many ways, including financial background. Of our over 6,500 students, over 4,300 received financial aid for the 2021-2022 academic year. 82% received aid at some point while at OU.

CHAPTER SUPPORT

Our chapters understand that Greek membership can be expensive and many chapters have payment plans or local scholarships to help students cover the cost of membership to join a Greek-letter organization.

NATIONAL SUPPORT

In addition to local support, many national organizations offer grants and / or scholarships to help members cover membership dues and fees. These opportunities are often limited to organization members.

Membership dues and fees are paid through third-party billing systems or are managed by the local chapter or organization. FSPS does not manage membership dues or fees for campus Greek-letter organizations.

INTERFRATERNITY COUNCIL

The Interfraternity Council includes many chapters with chapter facilities. These dues and membership fees are often more expensive, but the cost to live in a chapter facility may include: rent, parking, laundry, a meal plan and member dues.

Within IFC, members typically live in the chapter facility the second and third years of membership.

INDEPENDENT GREEK COUNCIL

The Independent Greek Council is composed of nine organizations, with one organization having a designated chapter facility. IGC costs and fees include local and national member dues as well as other local expenses and chapter operating costs.

MULTICULTURAL GREEK COUNCIL

Of the Multicultural Greek Council chapters on campus, none currently have chapter facilities. MGC costs and fees include local and national member dues as well as other local expenses and chapter operating costs.

NATIONAL PAN-HELLENIC COUNCIL

The National Pan-Hellenic Council often requires aspirants to have completed at least 12 credit hours. Dues and fees for NPHC organizations differ from year to year and member to member.

New members pay national dues for their entire collegiate experience up front. Subsequent years are local chapter dues only.

PANHELLENIC ASSOCIATION

The Panhellenic Association's dues and membership fees are often the most expensive during the first year of membership. These costs include local and national dues, programming fees, chapter operating expenses, and initiation fees.

All 11 of our Panhellenic organizations on campus have chapter facilities. Most Panhellenic members live in during their second year of membership. These costs may include: laundry, parking, a meal plan, and local / national dues. Members who do not live in the chapter house are always welcome in the facility and often eat two meals a week at the facility.

ON-CAMPUS CHAPTER FACILITIES

The University of Oklahoma currently has 27 chapter facilities that are privately owned and managed. Each has a live-in, full-time house director trained to run the facility.

Approximately 24% of the Greek community lives in chapter facilities near campus. Fees can include:

FAMILY INFORMATION

The fraternity and sorority experience can provide growth, academic support, peer mentorship, and close contact with university administrators. Our Greek-letter organizations were founded on a set of values, ethics, and standards their members strive to uphold. We understand parents and families play a role in a student's decision to join a Greek organization. Whether or not your family has a history of fraternity or sorority involvement, the Fraternity and Sorority Programs and Services team is here to help you along the way.

We know that students, parents, and family members alike often have questions about the fraternity or sorority experience. We've provided some campus resources and answers frequently asked questions. Visit greek.ou.edu to view a full list of resources for families considering Greek membership.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

What is Recruitment? Intake?

Recruitment and intake are the names for the process by which fraternities and sororities recruit new members. These processes differ from council to council, but all must be in compliance with organizational, institutional, and state policies, procedures, and laws.

When do students join Greek letter organizations on campus?

We are proud to be an institution that offers a fraternity and sorority experience to students regardless of their credit-hour standing. A large majority of our students join chapters their first semester at the University of Oklahoma, but some organizations do require a collegiate GPA prior to an extension of membership.

What does it mean to be a new member?

A new member period is a special time for students to bond with other new members and older members, as well. In this time, they learn about the organizations' history and goals, and this time ends in initiation into the organization.

What does the financial commitment for membership look like?

Much like anything else in college, Greek membership is a financial commitment. While finances for each chapter and each council differ, we encourage students to ask about the financial commitment during their recruitment process. You can also find more information in the financial section on page 22 of this experience guide.

Which organization is the best to join?

Our community is composed of 56 Greek-letter organizations, each with their own unique experiences, values, philanthropic focus, and leadership opportunities. Who is the "best" is a personal choice and should be based on where a student feels most comfortable.

What are the benefits of membership?

Joining a fraternity or sorority can have many benefits. Students in our community are more likely to have higher grades due to academic support and peer mentorship. Students also gain personal and professional development opportunities, a group of friends with which to share their college experience, and a variety of leadership and educational resources.

How will joining an organization affect my student academically?

Students in the fraternity and sorority community often have comparable or higher grade-point averages than their non-Greek counterparts. The all-Greek GPA in the fall of 2021 was a 3.31 compared to the all-undergraduate GPA of a 3.30.

HELPFUL HINTS

Be supportive of your student's choice to join a fraternity or sorority – a student does not have to be a legacy to join an organization.

Take time to learn about the organization your student is interested in. Check out their local and national website.

Encourage your student to get involved with their chapter and on campus.

Know the financial commitment. Determine who will pay and what limitations these expenses might impose.

Ask questions. The Student Life staff is always happy to help or answer any questions your or your student might have. You can find our contact information at greek.ou.edu.

STUDENT SUPPORT

Whether it's stress, illness, or academic needs, college students often need assistance from someone on campus during their time at the University of Oklahoma. The staff in the Office of Student Life and is always available to help. We encourage you to reach out and contact us. We can help provide students assistance and connect them to the appropriate campus resources.

HAZING & RISK REDUCTION

Sororities and fraternities are held to high standards by their national organizations, their advisers, and the University of Oklahoma. There are online modules, mandatory workshops, and national training sessions that prepare members for a safe and impactful membership experience.

MANDATORY EDUCATIONAL SESSIONS & TRAININGS

New members of fraternities and sororities are required to attend university-mandated sessions on alcohol safety, active bystander intervention, and hazing education. The FSPS team coordinates these trainings for the Greek community and offers a variety of sessions each semester.

The safety and wellness of our students is our top priority, and these sessions equip and empower students to participate in responsible decision-making while in college and beyond.

NEW MEMBER RECRUITMENT & INTAKE MEETINGS

Two weeks prior to any intake/new member activities or meetings, the chapter president, and the intake coordinator or new member educator will meet with the respective council FSPS adviser and FSPS chapter coach to discuss the recruitment / intake and new member education plans.

These meetings allow student leaders and FSPS staff to work together to build a safe and meaningful experience for the newest members of our Greek-letter organizations. Plans and educational programs are built with the organization's values and goals, as well as university policies and procedures in mind.

UNIVERSITY OF OKLAHOMA STUDENT CONDUCT

At the University of Oklahoma, conduct of students and organizations in conflict with university policy is handled by the Office of Student Conduct. This office administers the university's accountability process and emphasizes positive behavior changes, improved decision-making and focuses on assisting students to overcome problems to successfully complete their educational goals.

A "strike" is the University's official recognition of an organization's violation of the University's Student Alcohol and/or Hazing Policy.

Greek-letter organizations with active strikes are listed below. Visit ou.edu/studentconduct for more information on the university conduct process, active strikes and conduct violations, and information on student responsibilities pertaining to the student code.
