Minutes 4-15-14

President David L. Boren
University of Oklahoma
Evans Hall Room 110
660 Parrington Oval
Norman, Oklahoma 73019

Dear President and Mrs. Molly Shi Boren:

As tour guides of the University of Oklahoma, we have a passion for this university and everything that it represents. Every day, we give tours to prospective families and we love to tell stories about the campus, including its history and its unique aspects. One of those unique aspects is the many forms of artwork scattered throughout campus, in particular, "The Pastoral Dreamer." We understand that this sculpture belongs in front of the Donald W. Reynolds Performing Arts Center, however, as ambassadors of the university, we strongly believe that "The Pastoral Dreamer" should be moved back in front of Jacobson Hall.

After doing some research about the sculpture and its history, we found that the purpose of the statue is to bring a feeling of peace to the viewer. We found a quote by the sculptor of the statue, David Phelps in which he said, "I wanted people to identify with that kind of feeling of being at ease and being able to relax and feel at peace with yourself and the world." This is such a wonderful message being sent to viewers of the statue and we think that if the statue were in front of Jacobson, more people would be able to receive this message.

We believe this statue is a great representation of the university. This campus is our home and we all feel at such peace here. If "The Pastoral Dreamer" were to be moved back to Jacobson Hall, its message can transcend to not only the thousands of current students that pass by Jacobson Hall every day, but also the thousands of prospective students that come to the Visitor's Center. We want nothing more than for prospective families to see what a home the University of Oklahoma is and seeing a statue that represents our main purpose as tour guides and employees of the university, is very important to us.

All the tour guides hope that you are able to understand our perspective that "The Pastoral Dreamer" would enhance the university experience for our future Sooners and their families. Thank you for your time and consideration.

Boomer Sooner!

University of Oklahoma Tour Guides
